Start of Poverty War To Cost $203 Million

BY TIM WYNGAARD
Post Crescent Staff Writer

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. — The northland's "Little Appalachia" project to wipe poverty off the maps of Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota will cost $203 million to start, state officials told their federal counterparts here Wednesday.

Meeting for the first working session of the Upper Great Lakes Regional Development Commission, they delivered a tentative report to federal planners in the project calling for $142 million in federal assistance and state funding of $61 million.

The reduced figure represents the top priority items sifted from more than $1 billion in requests submitted this spring by the three states.

Meeting here were Gov. Warren P. Knowles, the state co-chairman of the commission, Minnesota Gov. Harold LeVander, Federal co-chairman Thomas Francis of Washington, D.C., and Herbert DeJong, director of the Michigan Department of Commerce, substituting for Gov. George Romney and staff assistants who were kept busy by rioting in the state. A part of the program is the waning of the war on poverty in the northern areas of the three states in the same manner as it has been fought in the Appalachia region.

The governors delivered to Francis the reduced and still tentative state requests for further examination and reduction with an eye on the production of this fall of what Knowles called a request with "enough romance and drama to make a saleable program" to be delivered to congress next January.

The joint state-federal program is aimed at aiding a 119-county region in the north of the three states, which is traditionally economically depressed and which suffers from a lack of industrial, agricultural and recreational development. Also included in the area are counties bordering on depressed neighbors.

Wisconsin's region of 36 counties includes Outagamie, Brown, Shawano and Waupaca counties.

At the working session the reports from each state containing an inventory of needs for the states to assist economic development of the region.

• Received a combined state report listing priorities for action from the inventories to spur economic development.

• Received a plan for priority projects for technical assistance projects to carry out the program.

• Allocation up to $105,000 from $400,000 in federal funds used to run the project for the preparation of the final plan to be accepted by the commission by Nov. 1.

• Agreed to hold meetings of staff assistants in the three states to allow the preparation of regional requests for operating departments, such as conservation, highways and industrial development for that November report.

• Heard a warning from LeVander that if the project is to succeed all states must be guaranteed they will receive either an equal share of each federal grant received or the total assistance given during the life of the commission.

Negro Bands Surge Into Mid-Manhattan

NEW YORK (AP) — Bands of young Negroes surged into mid-Manhattan early today after a free rock 'n' roll concert in Central Park, pummeling strollers and looting two store windows along fashionable Fifth Avenue.

Quick-moving police, in radio cars with sirens silent and roof lights turned off, raced from incident to incident, arresting a total of 21. It was the first such looting in the area in recent history.

Six more persons were arrested in scattered incidents of window smashing and looting in the Bronx, and new trouble flared in sections of Westchester County, bordering the city to the north.

Harlem Quiet

But Spanish Harlem, the upper East Side area hit by three nights of violence earlier in the week, remained calm.

The homeward-bound theatre crowds and other strollers gawked in surprise as the bands of young Negroes, totaling about 100, raced through the smart streets of midtown.

Police responded with 40 patrol cars and later sent double patrols into the 17-block area of Fifth Avenue extending south of Rockefeller Center and northward to Tiffany's at 57th Street.

A men's shop owner said $15,000 worth of merchandise had been stolen.

A foot patrolman, hand on holster, commented "this is the wrong area to fool around with. A lot of money is wrapped up here."

Police said there were several reports of persons being accosted by a small band of Negro youths in the Columbus Circle area, just off Central Park.

Officers said one young couple was pummeled and robbed of between $10 and $20, a lieutenant at the West 54th Street station, responsible for the area, was unable to confirm a report by the Daily News, which quoted a Transit Authority patrol-

Plane Crash Kills Pilot, Passenger

HOLCOMBE (AP) — A private two-seater airplane plunged 500 feet into the Chippewa River bank Wednesday night. The pilot and his passenger were killed.

The Chippewa County sheriff's office identified the victims as Norman R. LaBelle, 41, of Eau Claire, the pilot and owner of the pontoon-equipped plane, and Richard D. Ferron, 34, of rural Ladysmith.

Witnesses said the plane's engine failed after the craft circled the lake several times.

10 Cities Sites of Violence

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The fury of mob violence continued to sear the nation's cities today, with at least 10 communities hit by fresh violence overnight despite pleas for quiet from Negro leaders. But in Detroit, hit by the worst race explosion in the nation's history, there was peace.

The death toll reached 36 during the night as Detroit turned to the task of providing riot refugees with food to survive. Most of those who lost their homes were reported living with friends.

In New York, where Spanish Harlem continued calm for the second night, a looting group of Negro teen-agers swarmed out of Central Park and struck at midtown shops along fashionable Fifth Avenue in a lightning foray.

Chicago police combatted scattered window smashing, looting and firebombing on the city's predominantly Negro South and West sides. There were 40 arrests and a mid-evening rain was credited with holding down the violence.

There were also disorders and vandalism in Toledo, Ohio, Phoenix, Ariz., South Bend, Ind., Cincinnati and Cambridge, Md., where National Guardsmen moved in behind a wall of gas to disperse an angry crowd.

In Chicago, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. declared Wednesday

"Immediate Steps"

"Congress has created the atmosphere" for vicious Negro rioting and must take immediate steps to end unemployment. "We do not need measures like the 'antiriot' bill which has sailed through the House of Representatives, we need legislation like the 'antiriot' bill and the rent supplement proposal which were hooted down in that chamber," he said.

King joined with three other top Negro leaders Wednesday in calling for an end to the violence. "No one benefits under mob law. Let it end now," said the statement, signed by A. Philip Randolph, Roy Wilkins and Whitney Young Jr. in addition to King.

36 Dead in Detroit, 164 in South Vietnam

DETROIT (AP) — Casualties in four days of violence in Detroit as compared with American losses in the most recent full week of the war in Vietnam.

Detroit deaths 36, and more than 1,000 injured. Vietnam deaths 164 wounded 1,442, according to the U.S. Command in Saigon.

Romney Orders Halt To Citywide Curfew

DETROIT (AP) — Calm came to Detroit today, and Gov. George Romney rescinded some of the restrictions that were imposed to quell four days of violence that swelled into the costliest racial explosion in the nation's history.

Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh said, "I think it's over."

Lt. Gen. John Throckmorton, military chief of federal forces in the city, told his troops, "Sheathe your bayonets."

Romney withdrew the 9 p.m. curfew and lifted stringent regulations on gasoline sales with one exception, pumping gasoline into portable containers remained forbidden.

"Near Normal"

"It looks greatly improved," Romney said, "I went out to the main trouble area and took a good look. Things are approaching normal."

Romney, after four days of keeping pace with the developing violence, apparently was getting back to normal, also. He played golf before touring the city.

The governor told a news conference that he and Cavanaugh had sent a telegram to President Johnson asking him to declare the battered city a disaster area to make it eligible for federal funds for rebuilding.

Romney said, however, that there might be some legal question about whether the President could make such a declaration.

"The law has never been applied to a situation like Detroit," he told newsmen.

Citing "an apparent continuing improvement in the overall situation," Cavanaugh urged businesses in the riot-blitzed city to resume normal operations.

Soldiers afoot and in tanks, armored cars and helicopters maintained guard on areas where violence has been fiercest.

Tranquility came to the disheveled city after another night of military siege on stubborn, last-ditch nests of snipers.

The last four hours before sunup passed with only two reports of snipers.

The death toll reached 36 during the night

Test for Cabinet

De Gaulle's Words May Bring Trouble

PARIS (AP) — President few sounding boards at this Charles de Gaulle's abortive time of the year. Almost unanimously, the French tried to put to a mously — with the marked exception of the Communist Party — the president's espousal of the separatist cause was widely interpreted as a violation of an often-voiced Gaullist tenet — no interference in the affairs of another country.

An accident of the calendar — Ordinary Frenchmen, including many firmly in De Gaulle's camp, can make no sense out of his trumpeting the French separatist rallying cry.

But it appears certain to come, not only as a result of his conduct in Canada but also because of other actions which have aroused public opinion.

7-Year Term De Gaulle was elected to a second seven-year term in 1965 and assembly elections which came every five years were held last March. Thus the Gaullists face no major test at the polls in the immediate future, although there will be a handful of assembly by-elections and local elections in the coming months.

But when the assembly goes back to work in early October, the sparks may begin to fly. The Canadian crisis, which grew out of what appeared to be a deliberately charted effort by De Gaulle to boost French Canadian separatism, stunned opinion in France. But so far there has been no concerted riposte by De Gaulle's political opposition.

Most politicians and many officials have left the capital for the beaches and the mountains. Political and business activity is grinding to a near halt as it traditionally does in late July and August. Newspapers remain one of the few sounding boards at this

Knowles' Safety Bill Faces Sudden Death

The compromise version of the bill was due to return today three hours later than the Senate, which had been ed safety measure was set for its first test in the Senate as the apart in its stalemate over traffic safety at the end of June boycott of the Capitol.

The Assembly also planned to revive and approve Knowles' proposal for a new department of local affairs and development, originally sent to the sidelines for the summer.

The lawmakers are aiming for an end to the initial 1967 session either tonight or Friday.

The Legislature will return for a second session in the fall. Republican leaders were considering moving the tentative start-

11 Americans Killed in Raid

Rocket, Mortar Attack Blasts Infantry Camp

SAIGON (AP) — Communist gunners unleashed a heavy rocket and mortar attack on an American infantry camp and adjoining airfield north of Saigon today, killing 11 U.S. soldiers and wounding 43.

At the same time two nearby South Vietnamese installations came under similar attack. South Vietnamese headquarters did not announce military casualties but said three civilians were killed and 13 wounded in one of the barrages.

Ground action continued light, as it has been for almost a month, and the scarcity of major action was reflected by a slight decline in the weekly casualty figures. The U.S. Command said 164 Americans were killed last week and 1,442 wounded, compared with 175 killed and 1,443 wounded the week before. South Vietnamese losses were put at 183 dead and 523 wounded compared to 202 killed and 543 wounded the previous week, while 1,702 Communists were reported killed, a drop from 1,995 a week earlier.

Hit Headquarters

The Communist mortar and rocket assault hit the headquarters of the 1st Infantry Division's 1st Brigade at the airfield at Phuoc Vin, 35 miles north of Saigon, about four hours before dawn.

U.S. Command said there was light damage to installations and equipment at the airfield — a relatively small field used by spotter planes, helicopters and troop transports.

The Red gunners used mostly light mortars but some of the rounds were from Russian-made 122mm rockets, one of the heaviest weapons in the Viet Cong arsenal.

The shells rained on the headquarters and the field for 25 minutes, sending sleeping GIs scurrying for sandbagged bunkers and reaction patrols fanning about the barbed-wire camp perimeters.

Radar Control

Flareships lit the area and American guns under radar control opened up on Communist firing positions. They were located later in the day by ground patrols, abandoned and battered by shellfire but with no Viet Cong bodies left behind. Red gunners at the same time of their firing on a militia post at assistants in each state who the Ich Thien hamlet a few sorted out the highest priority miles away and at the district items.

Francis said his staff would further sift the projects to sort out those which could be achieved when the mortar shells combined with existing federal grant programs or through a combination of such aids. Wisconsin's original request totaled $302 million; Michigan's $140 million, and Minnesota's $320 million.

In the combined states, tentative requests for projects included propagation of salmon fishing in the Great Lakes, helping curb the alewife problem and developing sport fishing on the state's lakeshore and highways to carry tourists to it.

The combined requests are divided into proposals, including $57 million for industrial expansion, $35 million for tourist and recreation development, $4 million for agricultural growth and $42 million for transportation development. Further program formulation would receive $4 million if the final request is similar to the tentative proposal received.

LeVander told the group that Minnesota's aims include reorganization of the state's land title system to free land for industrial development and expansion in the peat industry — to be used in such diverse areas as water purification and fertilization.

DeJong said the aims of Michigan include the partial removal of tolls from the Mackinac bridge to break an "economic barrier" to trade and one cucumber canning company tourism, sewer and water reformation projects and a suggested discarded mattresses from the doubling of the federal income tax from 7 to 15 per cent as an aid to industrial development in all depressed areas in the U.S. about water, piles of garbage, included in such development poor drainage and unscreened windows.

Prisoner Freed By Mistake Will Return Willingly

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — John Monroe Osborn says he was very puzzled when authorities at the state prison in Jefferson City released him.

He didn't ask questions and returned to his parents home in Springfield.

His attorney, Charles A. Moon, said the 21-year-old Osborn was told Tuesday that his two 3-year sentences on burglary and stealing charges had been commuted by Gov. Warren E. Hearnes.

An investigation later revealed a snafu in the records at the penitentiary. Osborn should not have been released.

When he found out, Osborn decided to return voluntarily. He made plans today to take a bus back to Jefferson City.

coupled with systematic patrols and arrests combined to restore calm early today.

Sniper fire rang through the streets for the second night as vandals looted stores without regard for their ownership. Ten youths were arrested when they broke the window of a Negro-owned liquor store.

In Toledo young Negro rowdies hurled bricks and bottles at firemen battling a drug store blaze. Police made 48 arrests before quelling the third straight night of vandalism in the city.

National Guard troops rolled into South Bend after hands of youthful Negroes staged a second night of rock throwing. Mayor Lloyd Allen imposed a general curfew before he called for the guard.

Bombs Hurlled

Police in San Francisco said several gasoline bombs were hurled in a supermarket in the city's Negro district and reported one youth wounded by a market guard. Other scattered outbreaks were reported contained.

Los Angeles police said several gasoline bombs hit the streets of that city's Watts section early today and roving bands of youths were seen.

Philadelphia police put down a disturbance in a predominantly Negro area which saw a dozen store windows shattered but no looting or injuries were reported.

Check of Farm Camps Pledged

Fagan to Order Sanitary Conditions Study for Migrants

MADISON (AP) — Migrant workers have been promised prompt attention when inspections of farm camps are shifted to a different state agency next week.

"We'll move heaven and earth to do the job," vowed Joseph C. Fagan, chairman of the State Industrial Commission.

Fagan made the promise to Jesus Salas, the young migrant labor leader who staged an 80-mile protest march from Waukegan to Madison last August. Salas, meeting with state officials in the governor's office Wednesday, delivered complaints about poor sanitary conditions in five camps in Waushara and Portage counties.

He said the workers had received little attention from the State Board of Health, which presently handles the inspections.

"I just don't have the people to do the job," said white-haired Dr. E. Hall Jorris, the state health officer.

The inspection duties will be shifted from the Board of Health to the Industrial Commission next Tuesday under the Kellelt plan to streamline state government. Fagan had worked closely with Salas after last summer's protest demonstration.

The 23-year-old Salas charged, and one cucumber canning company re-farm camp operator had bought source projects and a suggested discarded mattresses from the city dump in Wautoma to use in an housing for migrant workers. He listed other complaints about water, piles of garbage, included in such development poor drainage and unscreened windows.

Jordan Won't Acknowledge 'State of Israel'

Wording of Forms Blocks Repatriation

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Arab refugees who fled across the Jordan River during the Arab-Israeli war.

With only 14 days to go, no applications have been filed out for the refugees to return to the west bank of the Jordan, which Israel occupied in the June war.

The Jordanian government has been urging the refugees to go home but it is not yet known how many want to. The Israelis announced that refugees could begin returning since the Jewish state was established in 1948.

Forms Supplied

Israeli authorities supplied 7,000 printed application forms to Roland Troyon, a representative of the International Red Cross committee in Jordan.

The Jordanian authorities refused to accept the forms because they were headed in English "State of Israel—Ministry of the Interior." The Jordanians considered this an attempt to squeeze out recognition of Israel as a nation, something the Arab countries have refused to do.

All but a few of the forms were returned to the Israelis.

Jordan earlier drew up its own form for would-be repatriates but Israel rejected them without explanation. The Jordanians are reported insisting on a form headed by the Red Cross symbol and some such noncommittal wording as "application for repatriation."

The Israelis have indicated privately they would accept such a form if Jordanian officials negotiate directly with them. But the Jordanians feel this also would imply recognition of Israel and open them to certain criticism from the other Arab states.

The Red Cross transmitted 65,000 messages from Jordan to the west bank for members of families separated by the ceasefire line. But so far only 1,322 replies have been received.

The replies were on forms also unacceptable to the Jordanians because they bore the Jewish Star of David. The forms were returned—but after the messages were copied.

State Legislature Provides For Inspection Warrants

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — A new state law strengthens the hand of state and local government inspectors by authorizing them to get special inspection warrants from local courts when needed to gain admission to private premises.

Sponsored by the League of Wisconsin Municipalities, the new legislative act results from rulings of the Supreme Court that have recently held that occupants of private property have the right to refuse entry to such inspectors, unless they carry a warrant.

A League official said he does not expect that such warrants will be used often, but that a new law was needed for special cases of resistance to the visits of building, housing, electrical, plumbing, heating, gas, fire, health, safety, environmental sanitation water quality, food, zoning, property assessment, meter and weights and measures, inspectors and investigators, among others.

For purposes of applying to judges for warrants, such officials will be deemed to be peace officers, the legislature provided.

The law will cover all those officials of local and county government and state agencies whose duties involve the inspection of real or personal property and building contents.

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Hair Coloring

Professional hair colorists recommend a slight change in hair shades for the first-time users of permanent tints. It is claimed that very few women are prepared for the psychological jolt that comes with a drastic color switch. To go from dark brunet to pale blond in one step is to take on a new identity. And most unsettling.

There's another strike against making a startling change. The hair tone too often throws the skin tone off key. For attractiveness the two must complement each other. Make-up can be used with some success to restore lost harmony until the hair can be properly toned.

But the problem would not occur if hair were lightened or darkened very gradually. By using the slow method, you gain perspective on the eventual goal — how well it will suit you and how it could be modified to suit you better.

As a guide to hair coloring that enhances skin tones, this chart will prove useful.

—Fair Skin — silvery blond, light auburn and, if you are youthful, blue-black.

—Brunet skin — navy blue, chestnut and dark brown.

—Flawed Skin — dark ash blond, dark auburn and brown shades with golden glints.

—Sallow Skin — warm shades of brown with reddish glints and honey blond tones.

Whatever your skin tone, beware of a brassy blond hair tone. It's the attention-getter for lines and blemishes.

Overcome your hair problems! Send for my booklet, How to Have Lovelier Hair. Advice includes corrective care of dry, abused, oily and hard-to-manage hair; expert coloring methods and treatment of thinning hair; hairstyle formulas; tips on permanent curling, permanents, straightening and grooming. Write to Mary Sue Miller in care of this newspaper for your copy, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin.

The Ailing House Steel Pad Scratches Formica

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: Is there any help for a formica counter top which was mistakenly scrubbed with a steel wool pad? Apparently it was done so hard there is a dull area, composed of a myriad of tiny scratches.

A: While I can't guarantee removal of the scratches, there can't help being a big improvement by using ear-cleaning wax: paste form, not liquid.

Q: I understand settlement cracks are a hazard common to every new house. I also can understand why it is a waste of time to attempt repairs to such cracks in plaster walls until one can be sure no more cracks will develop later. Question is, how to know when settlement has stopped?

A: With a pencil, make a mark and date at each end of a settlement crack. Each time it lengthens, make a new mark and date. When two months have elapsed since making the last mark, you should be safe in figuring the settlement has stopped and repairs can commence.

Q: It is time to repaint our summer cottage's shingle roof. Is it true that a lighter color on the roof means cooler temperatures underneath?

A: True indeed. Dark colors tend to absorb heat rays, while light colors tend to reflect them. Next to aluminum, white is the coolest of all colors for a roof. Aluminum can reflect so much heat away that the space underneath can be as much as 15 to 20 degrees cooler.

Q: My wife would like the walls of our TV room covered with dark green burlap. My question: How to do this, especially without the seams showing?

A: You put it on like wallpaper, except the adhesive goes on the wall, not on the material. To get straight, non-ravelling, invisible seams: Paint a one-inch stripe of pure, fresh, white shellac along the edges of the underside. When dry, slice off half of the width, using a very sharp blade and straight-edge. When these edges butt together, you'll never know they were there.

Imaginative Dash Inspires Chef

Either fresh or dry bread crumbs may be used in making a tuna or salmon loaf; but choose a recipe that specifies the particular kind of crumbs.

If you find a cookie dough is too soft to shape as the recipe directs, chill the dough thoroughly before trying to work with it.

For an unusual Southern dessert, roll a scoop of vanilla ice cream in chopped peanuts and serve with a dollop of hot fudge sauce.

Shinwold If Hand Is Weak, Don't Reopen Bids

If you're in Montreal during the national bridge tournament, July 28 through Aug. 8, don't ask Sammy Kehela or Eric Murray if it pays to reopen the bidding after the opponents have stopped at one notrump. Don't even mention the number 800 if you want to stay on the good side of the Toronto experts.

Jean-Michel Boulenger and Henri Svarc, of the French team, stopped at one notrump on today's hand during the recent world championships.

Kehela, holding the 14 high-card points of the North hand, reopened with a double, fearing that the opponents were "stealing" the hand from him.

Murray responded in his long suit, Svarc tried a tight double, and all passed.

Svarc opened the deuce of diamonds, and East won with the queen when dummy played low. Back came the nine of clubs, which rode to dummy's queen. For lack of an entry to his hand, Murray led a low heart from dummy. West won with the jack and returned a diamond to dummy's ace.

Continue Hearts

Murray led another heart, losing to the ace, and West returned a spade. East won with the jack when declarer played low from the dummy. Boulenger cashed the king of hearts and led a trump. South's jack forced out the ace, and now West could safely lead a third diamond to the king. Back came a fourth diamond.

Murray was already down two and still had to lose a trick to the 10 of clubs. If South ruffed than mine, but is that justifiable. West would overruff at once, and if South ruffed with the king, West's 10 of clubs would become the master trump.

The next time Kehela thinks the opponents are stealing the hand he will think twice about reopening the bidding — especially when they have already bid his best suit.

Daily Question

As dealer, you hold: S-A-Q 8 5 3, H-Q 9 8 3, D-A 6, C-Q 3. What do you say?

Answer: Bid one spade. You would be better pleased with the A-Q of diamonds and two little clubs, but the hand is worth an opening bid despite its flaws.

Your Problems

'Heavenly' Tone of Voice Makes World Better Place to Live

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 30, have three children and am making plans to separate from my husband. He has agreed to pay support money but it will not be enough so I must find employment.

I have not worked for eight years and my shorthand and typing are somewhat rusty. I am also more than a little frightened. Yesterday I filled out a Civil Service form and noted that part of the form was missing. When I inquired as to Boulenger cashed the king of hearts and led a trump. South's jack forced out the ace, and now West could safely lead a third diamond to the king. Back came a fourth diamond.

I was in tears by the time he finished screaming at me. Perhaps he had problems greater than mine, but is that justifiable. West would overruff at once, and if South ruffed with the king, West's 10 of clubs would become the master trump.

Wouldn't this be a better world if everyone spoke to everyone else in the same tone of voice he would use if he were speaking to God? Myself included. — Houston Reader

Dear Houston: Of course it would, but how many mortals behave in a civilized, completely balanced manner at all times?

I am sorry you did not follow your inclination and thank the man for the "kindness in his voice." It would have made him realize his thoughtlessness in a way that a sharp retort never could.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I've had numerous operations and have had to take a lot of medication to relieve the pain.

Landers

Light doses of medication are ineffective so I take twice as much as normally prescribed. I obtain the medicine through my doctor, of course.

The problem is that I am a poor sleeper and nothing knocks me out like whisky. So every once in a while I take several stiff drinks and go straight to bed. Notice I said "straight to bed" — I don't go out and raise Cain, nor do I abuse anybody. I only get pleasantly plastered and go to sleep. Isn't it O.K. to use whisky as a sedative? Please say so, because it's the only sure way I know to get a full night's sleep. — Duff

Dear Duff: Cut out either the medication or the booze or you could put yourself to sleep permanently. People who combine the two take a big chance. Discuss this with your physician at once.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am engaged to a wonderful girl. I have become very close to her family and I think the world of them. Her parents are divorced, and I seem to be the man of the house already.

The problem is an 11-year-old boy. This kid has a terrible chip on his shoulder. Hal sasses his mother and gets into fights with his teachers and neighbors. He has no friends. His father remarried and now has two sons by that marriage. This has hurt Hal a lot.

Last week I bought him some popcorn. He refused to share it with his sisters so I told him I wanted the popcorn back. He got mad and threw the popcorn in my face. I spanked him. He hasn't spoken to me since.

Hal can be very nice, but it only lasts a few days and then he gets mean again. Please tell me how to get along with him. — Lost.

Dear Lost: Hal needs more help than you can give him. Please urge his mother to see that the lad gets counseling. His anti-social behavior is a symptom of a deeper problem.

Trio Charged In Beating Gets Probation

State Parole Official Asks Sentence Stay

A Little Chute man and two Kaukauna youths this morning were placed on two years probation for the Jan. 27 beating of a youth at the Little Chute village dump.

Circuit Judge Andrew W. Parnell, acting on a recommendation by a state probation and parole agent, ordered probation for Ronald J. Kersten, 19, 222 W. Ninth St., and Robert J. Sachs, 18, 604 W. Ninth St., both of Kaukauna, and Robert Van Nuland, 25, 201 Canal St., Little Chute.

Judge Parnell at first sentenced all three men to two years each in the Wisconsin State Reformatory at Green Bay, then, after hearing a recommendation by Henry Klingbille, state probation and parole agent, stayed execution of the sentences. The state agency had conducted pre-sentence investigations.

Judge Parnell last month found the trio guilty of aggravated battery in the beating of Jerome Buss, 20, formerly of Little Chute. Buss was in an Appleton hospital for nine days for treatment of head, face, hand, and back injuries he suffered in the beating.

As a condition of probation, Judge Parnell ordered that the trio split evenly the $364.60 medical bills accrued by Buss for treatment of his injuries, and that each of the three pay a third of the court costs, which have not been determined.

Judge Parnell, in imposing probation for Van Nuland, termed him "the ringleader of this unfortunate incident."

Rural Oneida Boy Killed in Tractor Accident Today

GREEN BAY — The death of Gerald Vanden Eng, 16, Route 1, Oneida, has raised the Brown County traffic death toll to 12.

Brown County Coroner Tim Blaney ruled this morning that the death of Vanden Eng was an accident.

He was injured fatally when the tractor he was riding on County Trunk C at Mill Center tipped over on him about 8:30 this morning. The tractor was pulling a mower.

His death raises the Wisconsin highway fatality toll to 547, six more than on this date one year ago.

Details of the tractor accident were not available at noon.

Report Coat Stolen

Appleton police are investigating the theft of a white cashmere and wool coat from Manic's Apparel Shop, 118 E. College Avenue.

The theft was reported Wednesday night. Police were told analysts a neighborhood analysis, and a utilities study.

Youth Captured in Road Block After Allegedly Beating Ripon Man

Second Teen-Ager in Stolen Car Eludes Waupaca County Dragnet

WAUPACA — The alertness of 20 policemen and was still of Waupaca County and city police Wednesday night resulted in the capture of one of two youths who allegedly beat and robbed an elderly rural Ripon man earlier in the evening.

The second youth, sought following the beating of the rural Ripon man was apprehended about 9:30 a.m. today. He was taken into custody as he was preparing to board a bus to leave the area.

According to Waupaca County Authorities he had the stolen wallet on his person when apprehended. Police said it contained $64. He purchased a new pair of shoes in a local store prior to going to the bus depot. Police said the youth told them he had spent the night near the Godfrey Implement lot, which is about two blocks from the place where the stolen car was abandoned.

Police said the youth is from rural Spooner.

The two youths, ages 16 and 17, were living with foster parents near Ripon when they allegedly robbed Emil Werch, route 1, and then stole his car at approximately 7:30 p.m. Werch who was struck on the head with a heavy object, suffered a compound skull fracture and is listed in critical condition at St. Agnes Hospital, Fond du Lac.

One of the youths was captured about 15 minutes after the stolen car they were driving crashed in the city of Waupaca following a high speed chase by a Waupaca County traffic patrolman. The second youth managed to elude an extensive manhunt conducted by more

Kris and Mike Connors, like most youngsters, gathered the golf ball-size hail stones that fell in Chilton about 5 p.m. Wednesday. The youngsters are children of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Connors. (Connors Photo)

Requirements For Federal Aid Reviewed

State Planner Tells Kaukauna Of Minor Changes

KAUKAUNA — Now requirements for obtaining federal money for long-range city planning were explained to city planners Tuesday by Al Karst-sen, an official of the state planning commission.

The new requirements will require only minor changes in the city's application for funds. Karstsen indicated, however, that federal money wasn't very available at this time, and that many other communities had applied for aid.

Kaukauna would stand a good chance of getting funds if they became a viable blaw, Karstsen said.

The money would pay two-thirds of the cost of a long-range city planning program.

Included in the program would be a study of the need for capital improvements, such as public buildings, a review of codes and ordinances, a downtown business study and market analysis, and a utilities study.

Use of Industrial Park Land Owned By Guard Queried

Aldermen Also Question Opening Roeland Parcel for Development

Appleton officials are becoming concerned about the intention will use the land to construct the Wisconsin National Guard has for the 22.3 acres of land it controls in the city's industrial park.

The concern is based on two factors — the questionable future of Wisconsin's famed 32nd National Guard division, and the shortage of land in the industrial park.

The National Guard holds a quit claim deed on the 22.3 acre parcel of land. The deed, which was drawn up on Oct. 17, 1963, states that if National Guard hasn't used the property within five years, ownership of the land reverts back to the city.

Ald. Walter Kalata (2nd) raised the issue at a meeting of the city's board of public works.

Little Land Left Kalata said the city has only between 20 or 30 acres of land left in the industrial park and said that land was scattered around in various small pieces. "We have nothing left to work with," he said.

Kalata also pointed out that National Guard re-organization which probably will result in the end of the 32nd Division makes

General Will Fight to Save 'Red Arrow'

32nd Division Closes Summer Drill at Camp Ripley

CAMP RIPLEY, Minn. (AP)—Officers of Wisconsin's 32nd National Guard Division, one of 15 scheduled to be eliminated if the Pentagon's latest reorganization plan goes through Congress, were told today that they have at least one friend in high places.

Maj. Gen. John Dunlap of Whitefish Bay, the commanding general of the Red Arrows, told the last officers' call of the 1967 summer encampment that one of four inspecting generals who saw the division in training this year said he would "work to save the division."

Dunlap said one of the four officers, who represented the Department of the Army, the U.S. Continental Army Command and the 5th Army, made the remark, but declared one of them told him, "If any division in the United States deserves to be saved, it is the 32nd."

Dunlap didn't name the general but said the officer "now is doing something to save the division."

And he added, "I'll see you next year, at camp with the 32nd Division."

On this last day of training, the division's 7,736 men received $975,000 from the paymasters.

The troops start home at 6:30 a.m. Friday, and will camp overnight at a park in Eau Claire. The main convoy will avoid the stretch of road between Eau Claire and Tomah, where the Interstate highway is not completed. Units headed for southern Wisconsin will use Highways 53, 10, 13, 80, 82 and County Trunk Q; others will use Highways 35, 157, 27, 54, 71, 16 and I-94.

The Sidewalk Shopper must be ready to forego some of the conveniences usually associated with shopping on College Avenue, but with the prospect of a bargain the inconvenience didn't seem to bother Nancy Jo Hill, above, as she contemplated the purchase of a new pair of tennis shoes. Right, crowds of shoppers converged on the downtown area to inspect various sale items displayed by merchants at the annual sidewalk sale. (Post-Crescent Photos)

Airline Strike Could Throttle Transportation in Midwest

Air Wisconsin Plans for Rush If North Central Talks Fail

Airline travelers in the Fox O'Hare International Airport in Valley and throughout the Mid-Chicago, said reservation requests were running about Friday if a scheduled strike against North Central Airlines goes into effect.

At noon today no settlement had been reached and many passengers as we possibly can in the event that North Central mechanics go on strike Friday in a contract dispute that would halt all of the Air Wisconsin has 18 flights daily at the Outagamie airport, lower Eau Claire, La Crosse, Canada.

While businessmen and other air travelers in the Midwest may have difficulties because of the threatened strike, reservation-takers for Air Wisconsin at Appleton airport still owns two nine-passenger piston-engine aircraft which can be used to provide extra seats.

Reservation Requests High Preston Wilbourne, general manager for the airline which said he has been approached by connects the Fox Cities with Oshkosh-area industries asking if seats can be provided in the event of a North Central strike.

North Central has 17 flights daily at the Winnebago County Airport at Oshkosh. The airport has eight through flights both ways to Chicago and Minneapolis and another Chicago-Oshkosh flight which terminates in Oshkosh. North Central uses piston and turbo-jet Convair equipment with 44 seats.

A strike against North Central also would tie up passenger traffic at Austin Straubel Field in Green Bay. Other Wisconsin airports served by the airline are Milwaukee, Madison, Manitowish, the Outagamie airport, lower Eau Claire, La Crosse, Canada.

Robert Hall, a spokesman for the airline's public relations staff, said this morning that the airline's mediation is still taking place "and we hope the problems can be resolved."

Hall refused to elaborate on the dispute between the airline and the 550 members of the International Association of Mechanics and Aerospace Workers. The union operates in Minneapolis, Chicago, Detroit and Omaha. The airline has 2,600 employees.

"North Central has never had a strike, and we are going on the assumption we can avert this one," Hall said.

Kimberly Man Jailed For Three Months on Two Traffic Offenses

Eckehard Dartsch, 22, 408 N. Main St., Kimberly, Wednesday was sentenced to three months in jail and was fined $25 and costs or 12 more days in jail after he pleaded guilty of driving after his license was revoked and speeding 40 miles an hour in a 25 m.p.h. zone.

Dartsch was arrested by Kimberly police in the village earlier Wednesday.

Planning Commission Clinic At Waupaca Attracts 120

Officials From 12 Counties Told of Programming Need

WAUPACA — The first annual Community Planning Institute sponsored by the Northeast Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission (NWRPC), here Tuesday drew more than 120 county city and village planners and municipal heads from 12 counties.

The day-long session, which was designed to make counties and municipalities aware of planning needs in addition to aiding them with their planning problems, was attended by representatives from NWRPC member counties representing Forest, Shawano, Langlade, Waupaca, Menominee, Washishata, Outagamie and Winnebago counties in addition to Florence, Fond du Lac, Calumet and Green Lake Counties.

It was explained at the meeting the neighboring counties in attendance had either already applied for membership in the commission or were giving serious thought to joining.

During the morning session Donald Wood, port advisor for the department of resource development and a shore line specialist along with Boyd

Kimzey, NWRPC director of natural resources, explained the new state water statute in addition to telling what will be necessary to comply with the law.

Gordon A. Bubolz, founder and chairman of the Wolf River Basin Planning Commission, which is now the Northeast Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission, outlined the great need for planning on a regional and local basis and how it will affect generations to come. He also assisted with several parts of the program throughout the day.

Executive director of the NWRPC, William E. Morris, along with Walter DallaGrana, Florence County district attorney, explained to the group what is needed in water, sewer and sanitary system planning.

DallaGrana, who represented Florence County, which is expected to become the ninth county of the commission in the near future, explained what plan but most times only a brief procedure is required to establish a sanitary district. First a petition signed by 51 per cent of the NWRPC all but three have the property owners is needed. Next is a public hearing is LAWCON funds already. Doll conducted it is up to the said.

Individual town boards to establish the district and name a path planner for the NWRPC commission he said. Next is the who is coordinating the financing, which can be done in LAWCON program in the memocial assessments. He said that two important men in creating a sanitary district are an engineer, which can prepare the plans, and a bond man to arrange the financing.

Following a noon luncheon at the Waupaca Country Club where the institute was staged, the group viewed a movie entitled, "The Majestic River" which covered the beauty points of the Wolf River basin. Judging of the community displays was completed during the noon hour and Clintonville, with its display on what progress they had made in community planning, was named the winner.

The afternoon program consisted of an explanation of the Land and Water Conservation Act (LAWCON) program and how funds can be obtained with co-ordinated planning.

Arthur Doll, recreation planner for the Wisconsin Conservation Department, told the group that it is now necessary to have a plan for any project for which LAWCON funds are sought.

In the past it was recommended to have a plan but most times only a brief outline accompanied the application. Of the eight counties of the NWRPC all but three have used up all of their 1968 LAWCON funds already. Doll explained what plan but most times only a brief procedure is required to establish a sanitary district. First a petition signed by 51 per cent of the NWRPC all but three have the property owners is needed. Next is a public hearing is LAWCON funds already. Doll conducted it is up to the said.

Un-Americanism Committee Likely To Start Riot Probe

Subversive Influence Would be Examined; Call for Quiet Praised

WASHINGTON (AP) — The M. Dirksen House subcommittee on Un-American Activities may launch public hearings next week on the Detroit Jr. saying, "No one benefits and Newark riots beating to the under mob 'aw Let's end it punch a proposed Senate-House now."

Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., said the committee — best known for its often stormy investigations of alleged domestic communism — expects to meet next week to consider a preliminary staff report on supposed subversive influences in the riots.

Willis said he felt the committee would agree with him that the information developed to date will justify public hearings. And it was learned the committee is poised to begin public hearings a day after it approves recommendations in the preliminary report.

Slum Conditions
Wednesday's call by four Negro leaders for an end to rioting drew praise from Senate leaders, plus a bipartisan leadership pledge that the Senate will pass legislation aimed at alleviating disorder-causing slum conditions.

In separate interviews, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Republican Leader Everett

H. Rap Brown, background, raises his fist as he leaves an Alexandria, Va. jail early today to the cheers of some 300 supporters. The 23-year-old leader of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee was released on $10,000 bond. He is charged with inciting a riot Monday in Cambridge, Md. ## Robbery Nets $24,000 From Suburban Bank

No Apparent Link To Earlier Holdup In Milwaukee Core

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Four bearded bandits escaped with $24,000 from a suburban bank Wednesday after roughing up three bank employees and a salesman.

There was no apparent connection between the robbery at the suburban Bank of Greenfield and a $12,721 holdup at the First Wisconsin National Bank's Badger office within the city limits earlier in the day.

The masked bandits who held up the Badger branch were described as Negroes. The bearded men who also wore facial makeup were described as white.

In still another robbery, a bandit escaped with $183 from a branch office of the Seaboard Finance Co.

The bearded men entered the Greenfield bank through a side door that is normally locked, a bank official said. The entrance was kept open for the convenience of electricians working in the new building he explained.

The robbers, three of whom were armed, escaped in a white and silver 1959 Ford after stuffing their loot into pillowcases, authorities said.

Six employees and a salesman were in the bank during the holdup, which took about three minutes.

One of the bandits kicked Theodore T. Buckley, a bank vice president in the ribs. George Senk, 30, the salesman, was struck in the face and knocked to the floor.

Mrs. Diane K. Rapp, 30, a teller, was slapped. She fell and was dragged and dropped near a drive-in window.

In the Badger branch robbery, police said a shot was fired at Paul Plakowski, 24, a bank official. It lodged in his desk.

Another official, Jerome Sweet, 61, was pistol whipped. When a 45 slug misses you by a little bit you get a little scared, said Plakowski, who was reaching for a telephone to summon police when the shot was fired. I dropped the phone and hit the floor just as he fired, he said.

'We Are a Little Tired'

Pope Returns for Rest After Visit to Turkey

By DENNIS F. REDMONT

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Back from what he depicted as a wearying but satisfying journey to Turkey, Pope Paul VI settled today into his summer vacation routine of rest and study.

The Pope was driven directly to his summer residence at Castel Gandolfo south of Rome after debarking from the jetliner that brought him home from Turkey Wednesday night.

We are a little tired, the 69-year-old pontiff told a crowd of greeters at Castel Gandolfo only a few hours after he trudged around the ancient Christian ruins of Ephesus, Turkey, in a 100-degree heat.

His face was drawn, his voice slightly hoarse.

Much Work
The Pope said he would take a few moments of rest, then turn to the much, much, much work still ahead of him.

He is expected to remain at his cool retreat five or six weeks. During that period he will finish preparation of a forthcoming document on the issue of birth control, the principal topic of study during his summer vacation last year.

He has long postponed any declaration on whether the church will lift its anticontraception rule.

New Trip
It was not excluded that the Pope might spend some of his vacation time contemplating a possible new trip.

Returning on the Pope's jet from Turkey, Vatican aides commented on the pontiff's fifth journey abroad and said that he could be expected in the future to travel just as often as he has in the past.

Looking back on the two-day Turkish trip, the Pope told the Turkish crowd that God had blessed his meetings with officials of that Moslem nation and with Orthodox religious leaders.

Diver Brings Together Man and His Teeth
BOISE Idaho (AP) — A Boise man and his false teeth reunited thanks to a sharp-eyed diver from the county sheriff's office. The sheriff's office sent the diver to look for the teeth after the man, whose name was not disclosed, lost them in a reservoir. The diver found them in 30 feet of water, the office said.

Brown Accused of Inciting Riot

Cheers Greet Freed Militant

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — Brown into the federal building he told newsmen "We'll burn the country down, honkies, and all He uses honkies to refer to white people.

Meanwhile a State Department official said "consideration will be given" to revoking the passport of Brown's predecessor as SNCC leader Stokely Carmichael.

Travel Ban
Carmichael, who looked on Wednesday night in Havana as Prime Minister Fidel Castro called the riots the "tragedy of imperialism," violated the government's ban on travel to the Communist-run Caribbean island.

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said Carmichael did not apply for special permission to visit Cuba and that the Black Power advocate's passport is subject to revocation as has been the case with any and all who have traveled in Vietnam.

Screaming Youngsters
He again tried to speak but was pulled into the vehicle and his words were drowned out by cheers of the youngsters screaming Black Power.

Brown's Black Power speech in Cambridge Monday preceded a disturbance which ended with the burning of about a dozen buildings including a school and a church in the heart of the city's Negro area.

Another Maryland warrant charged Brown with counseling and procuring the burning of the school.

Brown was arrested Wednesday morning by FBI agents at National Airport near here on a federal fugitive warrant.

Virginia Warrant
Prior to an afternoon hearing before a U.S. commissioner, the Justice Department dropped the federal warrant. Brown stayed inside the federal building for a time, claiming immunity from Virginia arrest. But then he was hauled outside by police and arrested on a Virginia warrant charging unlawful flight to avoid prosecution in Maryland.

When FBI agents first led him to the federal building, he was both towed to make personal sacrifices in setting an example for the flock of their sister churches separated nine centuries ago by the great schism.

wa, Weyauwega, Jola, Waushara County, two state traffic troopers and also Fond du Lac Sheriff Harry Rozek and three members of his department.

The area of the city where the search was centered was between South Washington Street and High Street, which contains a wide strip of heavily wooded, hilly, area approximately one-half mile long.

Road blocks were set up at both ends of the city on State 22-54 and State 49 leading north.

Reports from residents on both S Washington Street and High Street were received that someone had attempted to enter their homes, and several of the houses were searched but the youth went uncaptured.

The road blocks were discontinued about 2 p.m. and the search party was reduced to patrolling squad cars manned by city police.

Upon questioning of the 16-year-old, it was learned that the two boys had been staying at the home of Werch's son, who lived on a nearby farm near Ripon. After leaving the farm early Wednesday evening they walked across a corn field to Werch, who was near his garage. They called Werch into the garage where they beat and robbed him before scaling his late-model car. When the two fled from police in Waupaca, the 16-year-old was carrying the wallet taken from Werch. Police have not determined how much money was in it.

When first spotted, the youths were heading for Minnesota, the youth told Sheriff Mock. The captured youth is a native of Merrill and the home of the other youth is not known. Both have extensive past records of car theft. It is believed that the youth that managed to escape stole another car in Waupaca to make his getaway.

Rawhide Gets Support Of Legislative Group

Group Cites Home's Ability to Reduce Delinquency, Delay State Building Need

Rawhide, Inc. the non-profit one provided at Rawhide can camp and boys home facility offer, at a significantly lower located near Fremont, received cost, care and rehabilitation an encouraging boost this week which are at least equal and through a report published by perhaps superior to that provided in state institutions.

After visiting the 174-acre facility and studying its pro- gram, the committee of the state legislature stated that a program such as Rawhide offers the potential to materially reduce the incidence of delinquency and possibly delay the need for additional state institutions of certain types.

Develop Camping Program

Rawhide, under contract with the State Welfare department, currently provides foster care facilities for up to eight disadvantaged boys. The facility is now being developed as a summer camping program what will offer a 2-week camping experience for as many as 300 teenagers.

The committee concluded by saying that homes such as the one at Rawhide are the real key to the low operating costs of Rawhide.

Analysis of the operating costs of the home indicate that such private homes can operate at a per capita cost of about $365 per month compared to a monthly cost of about $665 at the Wisconsin child center, the report states.

The committee also concluded with the recommendation that the state offer all reasonable cooperation and encouragement in its development and expansion of non-profit facilities such as Rawhide.

Purchase of the Rawhide camp and boys home facilities is being accomplished completely by contributions and much of the guidance to the program is offered by voluntary professional people of the community.

According to Rawhide director John Gillespie this is the real successful key to the low operating costs of Rawhide.

This is the second time in recent years that fire has destroyed the barn on a farm operated by the Tesch brothers. The other farm was several miles away from the present one.

Both Brillion and Forest Junction firemen responded to the call. Bulk tank trucks from nearby cheese factories aided firemen by hauling in the water supply.

Firemen remained at the site until 6 a. m. and were able to save the farm home.

Wolf to Get 'Wild' Status

FOREST JUNCTION — A former Brillion High School vocational agriculture instructor predicted the U.S. will be enacting new laws to cope with the current riot problems and may live to regret them later. William Hoeft, now farm director for WTMJ, Milwaukee, was the principal speaker at the annual twilight meeting of the Calumet County Holstein Breeders Association Tuesday night at the Reuben Ott farm. Hoeft predicted that many things not originally intended would be read into these new laws in the future as they are interpreted by the courts. Shortly before arriving at the Ott farm Hoeft said he viewed breaks in the riot conditions in Detroit and it prompted his thoughts for the evening.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Interior Committee gave its approval Wednesday to a bill that would designate two streams in Wisconsin as wild rivers.

The bill, which would designate a national wild and scenic rivers system, listed the St. Croix River in Wisconsin and Minnesota and the Wolf River in Wisconsin as wild rivers.

The scenic river system would include portions of the Wolf and the Namekagon in Wisconsin.

"You can't castigate the entire Negro population because only 2 per cent of them are involved in the fracas," he said.

Izhak Perlman Soloist
The concert part of the annual Berkshire Festival, will feature as its guest soloist Izhak Perlman, 22-year-old Israeli violin virtuoso who has been frequently compared to Jascha Heifetz as a youth. Perlman will play Saint-Saens' Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso. Also included in the program will be Mozart's Overture to the Abduction from the Seraglio, Dvorak's Symphony Number 9 in E Minor (from the "New World"), and Tchaikovsky's 1812 Overture.

Program host and narrator, Edwin Newman, will interview during the 20-minute intermission some of the first chair players and guests at the concert. Newman will also recall Tanglewood's illustrious 31-year history as the summer home of the Boston Symphony and the site of its annual Berkshire Festival.

Green Ram to Open Wallach Play Friday

Appleton Girl
Appears in Cast
Of Comedy Show

BARABOO — Judi Jones, Appleton, is in the cast of the Ira Wallach comedy "The Absence of a Cello" opening Friday at the Green Ram Theatre.

The play directed by Charles Combs is about a brilliant, but bankrupt, scientist who needs a job with a big corporation. He's to adapt his theories of ultrasonic energy to household appliances.

Andrew Pilgrim, played by Bob Plum, Chicago, doesn't mind adapting his scientific theories for practical uses, but highly dramatic affair with has some difficulties adapting "Toys in the Attic," an emotional personal life for corporation charged version of a Lillian Hellman play. Dean Martin is Pilgrim's wife, played by Jill Roth, Oshkosh, isn't the ideal corporation wife either. She has learned nine forgotten languages in order to write medieval history books.

Investigating the couple for the corporation is John Rengstorff, Madison, and investigating the investigator for herself is Fern Markgraf, Lodi.
Miss Jones plays the grandmother who helps create a corporation image by supplying weekly magazines and an ancestor who was shot at Valley Forge.
The play runs through Aug. 1 at the Green Ram summer theater located 9 miles north of Baraboo on U.S. 12. Ticket information is available at the box office.

BY CAPPY DICK

A pocket size notebook can serve as a handy, homemade guide book containing directions for traveling to various points of interest, neighboring towns, recreational areas and other places. Completion of the guide can be an interesting Summer vacation project for a boy or girl.

The completed guide book should be kept in a handy place, such as the glove compartment of the family automobile. If its location is known to everyone in the family, it will prove to be useful to all.

Figure 2 shows two pages filled with detailed — and accurate — directions for getting to various places. The directions should tell the streets and highways to be followed, landmarks to be made, landmarks to find to various places. The notebook has been compiled to include directions to all possible places of interest, it will be useful when friends and relatives come from out of town to visit.

Dubuque Goes Into Tie, Tips Foxes, 7-4

Sky Divers To Perform Tonight

Cubs Lose Again; Bob Veale Gains 12th NL Victory

Cardinals Trip Chicago, 4 to 2; Mets Bombard San Francisco, 11-5

By JIM HARP Post-Crescent Staff Writer The Dubuque Packers took advantage of some loose play by the Appleton Foxes in the ninth inning to pull out a 7-4 Midwest League victory at Goodland Field Wednesday.

The win boosted the Packers into a tie with the Foxes for the league lead following the first game of their vital 3-game set. The same two teams will meet again tonight at 8 p.m. and preceding the game members of the Paranaut Sky Diving Club will put on an exhibition and try to land at second base.

Dubuque was holding a shaky 4-3 lead going into the ninth when the Packers parlayed three Foxes' errors, two singles and a sacrifice into three clinching runs.

The Foxes tried vainly to get a rally going in the ninth. The first two batters went out in orderly fashion but a walk to Jose Ortiz and singles by George Hunter and Roy Radmaker loaded the bases. Karl Simon then drew a walk to force in one run but Gary Mewes, a replacement in right field late in the game, grounded out to end the game.

Appleton was in command of a 3-0 lead early in the game with two of the runs coming on a long home run by Joe Monty in the second inning with Art Kusner on base.

Dubuque tied the count in the sixth when power-hitter Joe Dodder sent one of Steve Korkor's pitches over the 400-foot mark in straight-away center field with two males aboard.

Winning pitcher Jim Price sent the go-ahead run across the plate in the seventh when he slammed out a triple after Jerry Bagwell had reached base on a fielder's choice.

Price Triples Price was a thorn in the Foxes' side since he entered the game in the fifth. Besides handcuffing Appleton on five hits and one run the rest of the way he scored twice himself, had a triple and single and contributed a sacrifice. He also had a run batted in to his credit.

The Foxes appeared to have a golden opportunity to tie the score in the last of the eighth when Radmaker led off the inning with a long triple to right center. However, the chance was lost when he was thrown out at second.

Parks Joins 49er Training Camp, Stays Unsigned

MORAGA, Calif. (AP) — Dave Parks, one of the National Football League's top ends, reported to the San Francisco 49ers training camp Wednesday — unsigned but anxious to begin workouts.

"I'll play out my option," the 6-2, 207-pounder said. "I'm not closing the door on negotiations; I just want to begin practice."

Parks and Jack White, 49ers general manager, have been discussing contract terms for two months.

Not a Hitter And in the ninth? First there was Bob Bailey. He took a third strike. Then there was Wes Parker. He swung at a third one. And last there was Jeff Torbor, a swinger, but not a hitter.

In other National League action, St. Louis beat Chicago 4-2, Cincinnati bounced Atlanta 7-1 and rained washed out the second game of a scheduled doubleheader. Houston edged Philadelphia 3-2 and New York bombarded San Francisco 11-5.

Willie Stargell homered for the Pirates in the fourth inning, but the Dodgers came back to tie the score 2-2. Manny Mota singled in the run that broke the tie in the sixth and Maury Wills walked, stole second, went to third on an error and scored on a forceout for the final run.

Extended Lead The Cardinals extended their league lead to two games by downing the Cubs. Julian Javier drove in three runs, two with a homer, and Lou Brock stole two bases and scored twice. Nelson Briles, 5-4, was the winner, but needed ninth inning help from Jack Lamabe and Joe Hoerner.

Deron Johnson cracked a two-run homer, sparking the Reds' victory after Phil Niekro had held Cincinnati to one bunt single through the first six innings.

McL Queen, 10-5, was the winner. Joe Morgan's single drove in

Eye Best Recreational And Reservoir Use Of Wisconsin River

By JIM VAN EYCK
Merrill Daily Herald

MERRILL (AP) — The Wisconsin River is often called "the hardest working river in the nation." But its usefulness for hydroelectric generation and power making was severely limited by the extreme water flows during certain seasons of the year. During the same seasons the communities along the river were threatened by flood waters that swept down the river valley.

To manage the river flow, the companies that use the water power of the Wisconsin River formed the Wisconsin Valley Improvement Company (WVIC). The 26 power dams of these paper mills and utilities and the 21 reservoirs—16 natural lakes and 5 man-made lakes owned by WVIC—now regulate the river flow.

The normal cycle in reservoir operation is to fill them in spring with the water from the rains and melting snow, release some in summer dry spells, partially fill again with the fall rains and empty them in winter. This system has provided a more adequate and constant source of water power at the dams, relief from much of the potential flood water, 66,000 acres of recreation (power dams provide another 83,000 acres), additional capacity for waste disposal due to the oxygen supply in the water released, and the increased tax revenue from the operating property and shoreline development over that of the undeveloped land. 83.5 per cent of the state utility tax paid by WVIC goes to the counties and townships involved. WVIC also advises the State Public Service Commission of expected flows at Portage, so the levee system there can be patrolled and protected. These operations are carried out at no expense to the state or to the taxpayers.

Has Control Plans

Five tributaries with highly variable run offs of interest here are the Somo, Spirit, Copper, Rib and New Wood rivers. WVIC has long-standing plans for reservoir control of these rivers and has the mapping and construction plans for one of them, the New Wood. The calculated effects of this proposed storage on the high flow period from March 30 to April 2, 1967, show that 70 per cent of Somo River flow could have

Patriots' Nance Gets Salary Hike

ANDOVER, Mass. (AP) — The American Football League's most valuable player in 1966, Jim Nance of the Boston Patriots, has signed his 1967 contract, Patriots Coach and General Manager Mike Holovak said Wednesday.

Holovak said Nance received a substantial increase.

Nance said he was happy because he can now "concentrate on just playing football."

The former Syracuse star set a new AFL rushing record last season, chalking up 1,458 yards.

been stored, peak discharge flows of 5,000 cubic feet per second on the Spirit River could have been reduced to 800 cubic feet per second, total flow from the Copper and New Wood rivers could have been cut in half, and water stored in a Rib River reservoir could have prevented the flooding of Business Highway 51 south of Rothschild, and the temporary closing down of the Stevens Point, Wisconsin Rapids and Port Edwards paper mills could have been avoided.

The Conservation Commission opposed a 1957 application by WVIC for permission to build the New Wood reservoir, but recent joint studies by the two organizations may be the beginning of solutions to the problems involved. WVIC would like to get the New Wood project going because of the investment already in the plans and maps and the time needed to get the other projects off the ground.

One problem involved is the effect of the necessary drawdown of the reservoirs on the recreational use of the waters. "Sure they (the reservoirs) fluctuate," said R. C. Wylie, vice president and general manager of the Wisconsin Valley Improvement Company. "They wouldn't be reservoirs if they didn't fluctuate. But only in extreme years do they fluctuate to the level that they wouldn't be usable by the general public. They do not create so called cesspools," he said, "but beaches are formed and the reservoirs can become shallow in the upper reaches."

Not Yet Sure

Wylie said he is not yet sure what kind of shoreline development will be open to the proposed reservoirs. "It will depend upon the local resident groups and the state," he said. "We (WVIC) want to get maximum recreational use without jeopardizing reservoir use. We can possibly get the maximum recreational use without outlining the lakes with cottages," he said. Wylie pointed out that "cluster development," a group of cottages or houses near one end of a lake, and effective sewage disposal, good access to the lake and floating public docks to offset fluctuations in the reservoir are working well in other areas and are widely used in other states.

Yesterdays Stars

HITTING—Joe Pepitone, Yankees, hit two home runs as New York won the opening game of a doubleheader from the Minnesota 6-1.

Also contending with this foursome for regular employment are rookies Travis Williams (Arizona State), Claudis James (Jackson, Miss., State), Jim Mankins (Florida) State and Stew Williams (Bowling Green), all of whom are expected to be prominently displayed tonight.

The formal unveiling of her old freshman quarterback Don Horn, the Pack's second number choice in the first common draft (center Bob Hyland was the first), likewise is on the agenda. He will share the signal calling assignment with veterans Bart Starr and Zeke Bratkowski and Kent Nix, back from last year's taxi squad.

Full Scale Test

Other first year men expected to receive a full scale test are flankers Dave Dunaway (Duke), Jeff White (Texas Tech) and Stan Kemp (Michigan), tight ends Dick Carr (Boston College) and Harland Reed (Mississippi State), offensive tackles Dick Arndt (Idaho) and Tom Cichowski (Maryland), guards Jerry Moore (Bethune-Cookman) and Roy Schmidt (Long Beach State), centers Steve Buratto (Idaho) and Jay Bachman (Cincinnati), defensive tackles Dwight Hood (Baylor), Leon Crenshaw (Tuskegee) and Clarence Miles (Trinity, Tex., College) and defensive backs Richard Tate (Utah) and John Rowser and Mike Bass (Michigan).

The only doubtful starter is tight end Marv Fleming, who has been withheld from contact since suffering a shoulder injury in a scrimmage last Saturday. Two others, rookies Hyland and Jim Flanagan, (Pittsburgh linebatters, will be missing. They are currently with the College All-Stars, who face the Packers in Chicago's Soldier Field next Friday night, Aug. 4.

As per custom, coach Vince Lombardi will view the action from the press box while his aides direct the rival squads.

Merle and Noreen's tallied two markers in the bottom of the seventh to tip Jahnke Beverage.

Jahnke's took a 4-0 lead but Merle and Noreen's tied it up with four in the fourth. Jahnke's forced ahead again 10-4 but with three under-par 69-

Under the rules of game, the offense will put the ball in play from the 20-yard-line and proceed until forced to punt. When the defense acquires possession through a punt, interception or fumble, the second offensive and defensive units will take over at the point the defender is brought to earth.

To avoid delay, however, the offense will reverse its position each time and head in the opposite direction. All of which means, of course, that the defense will be able to score only with an interception, fumble or punt.

Understandably, the offense holds an edge in the series, begun when Lombardi arrived on the Packers scene in 1959. The attackers have won 5, including a 24-0 decision last year, lost 2 and tied 1.

The contest will be graced by the presence of Gov. Warren Knowles, who will be on hand to present awards to the six winners — three boys and three girls — in the inter-high school driving contest sponsored by the Police Department Benevolent Association.

Tickets, priced at $1 for second game with the Twins, adults and 50 cents for children, but Minnesota won 3-2 in 18 innings.

Merle and Noreen's Downs Jahnke's

A solo home run by Claude Softball Tournament here Wednesday in the 10th inning gave Bleier's Bar of Appleton a 2-1 victory over Giddings and Lewis of Kaukauna in the opening game of the Fox River Valley while teammates Randy Gouall and Dick Melotif had two hits. In other opening round games, each Ron Jenss, Tom Jooss and Black's Drive Inn of Appleton Ken Ganzel cracked a pair of homers and Dick's of Kaukauna's Bar of Little Chute edged Brownies 1-0. After falling behind 1-0, Hilbert, 10-0. Merle and Noreen's Bar of Green Bay, third and four times in the fifth 12-10, and Brownies Place of to triumph over Lee and Sandy's of Kaukauna, 5-1.

The single elimination tournament will continue with four more opening round games tonight. Jitter's and John's of 11 Menasha will take on Maritime Bar of Appleton at 6 p.m.

Esquire Bar of Green Bay will tangle with SSAC of Appleton at 7:15 p.m. Bob and Mary's Bar District Little League Baseball Tournament.

The two other teams in the tournament, the Green Bay Lions and host Shawano, will battle at 6 p.m. The winners of the two games will then meet Saturday at 2 p.m. in a playoff game for the right to advance to the Milwaukee state meet next Friday and Saturday.

Radtke finally ended the marathon in the 10th. Jerry Schmidt went the distance for the win, making only two hits and striking out 20 batters while walking four. Gene Gillis took the loss.

Dave Keberlein led Black's to victory as he fired a 1-hitter. He walked nine batters. Duane Vanderloop spoiled his no-hit bid. The winners were held scoreless the first three innings but scored in each of the final four. Keberlein and Fritz Frielanders each had a pair of hits for Black's.

Merle and Noreen's tallied two markers in the bottom of the seventh to tip Jahnke Beverage.

Jahnke's took a 4-0 lead but Merle and Noreen's tied it up with four in the fourth. Jahnke's forced ahead again 10-4 but with three under-par 69-

Merle and Noreen's came back to tie it with six in the sixth and then won in the seventh.

Tim Cloutier had a home run for Jahnke's and Denny Hilgenberg cracked one for the winners. Each team rapped out 10 hits. Tom Handlen had a perfect night in three tips for the losers.

Stinski Shoots 70 at Ridgeway

Herb Stinski of Neenah carded a low round of 70 to pace golfers at the Ridgeway Country Club in Neenah recently. Stinski also fired rounds of 71 and 75.

Other top counts were registered by Svi Luka, 74; Bill Bolton, 76; Dale Howe, Elmer Miller, Bob Hogan, all 77; and Doug Pagel, 178.

Chuck Bland fired an eagle on the 18th hole, using a driver and five iron to go in the green and then holing a 40-foot putt.

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING—Bill Monhouquette, Yankees, retired 21 batters in a row, pitching nine scoreless innings in New York's victory over the Red Sox.

Tickets, priced at $1 for second game with the Twins, adults and 50 cents for children, but Minnesota won 3-2 in 18 innings.

Rioting Ends in Detroit But Spurts Elsewhere

Negro Bands Surge Into Mid-Manhattan

NEW YORK (AP) — Bands of young Negroes surged into mid-Manhattan early today after a free rock 'n' roll concert in Central Park, pummeling strollers and looting two store windows along fashionable Fifth Avenue.

Quick-moving police, in radio cars with sirens silent and roof lights turned off, raced from incident to incident, arresting a total of 21. It was the first such looting in the area in recent history.

Six more persons were arrested in scattered incidents of window smashing and looting in the Bronx, and new trouble flared in sections of Westchester County, bordering the city to the north.

But Spanish Harlem, the upper East Side area hit by three nights of violence earlier in the week, remained calm.

The home-ward-bound theatre crowds and other strollers gawked in surprise as the bands of young Negroes, totalling about 100, raced through the smart streets of midtown.

Police responded with 40 patrol cars and later sent double patrols into the 17-block area of Fifth Avenue extending south of Rockefeller Center and northward to Tiffany's at 37th Street.

A woman's shop owner said $15,000 worth of merchandise had been stolen.

A lot patrolman, hand on holster, commented, "This is the wrong area to fool around with. A lot of money is wrapped up here."

Police said there were several reports of persons being accosted by a small band of Negro youths in the Columbus Circle area, just off Central Park.

Officers said one young couple was pummeled and robbed of between $10 and $20. A lieutenant at the West 5th Street station responsible for the area was unable to confirm a report by the Daily News, which quoted a Transit Authority patrolman.

The teen-agers' spree began after they surged out of a free rock 'n' roll concert in Central Park featuring Smokey Robinson and the Miracles. The show was part of a series designed to keep city youth "cool" during the summer.

The death toll reached 36 during the night as Detroit turned to the task of providing riot refugees with food to survive. Most of those who lost their homes were reported living with friends.

In New York, where Spanish Harlem continued calm for the second night, a looting group of Negro teen-agers swarmed out of Central Park and struck at midtown shops along fashionable Fifth Avenue in a lightning foray.

Chicago police combatted scattered window smashing, looting and firebombing on the city's predominantly Negro South and West sides. There were 40 arrests and a mid-evening rain was credited with holding down the violence.

There were also disorders and vandalism in Toledo, Ohio; Phoenix, Ariz.; South Bend, Ind.; Cincinnati and Cambridge, Md., where National Guardsmen moved in behind a wall of gas to disperse an angry crowd.

In Chicago, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. declared Wednesday: "Immediate Steps"

"Congress has created the atmosphere" for vicious Negro rioting and must take immediate steps to end unemployment, King said.

"We do not need measures like the 'antiriot' bill which has sailed through the House of Representatives; we need legislation like the 'antiriot' bill and the rent supplement proposal which were hoisted down in that chamber," he said.

King joined with three other top Negro leaders Wednesday in calling for an end to the violence. "No one benefits under mob law. Let it end now!" said the statement, signed by A. Philip Randolph, Roy Wilkins and Whitney Young Jr. in addition to King.

Phoenix police fought gangs of Negro youths for four hours before a rigidly enforced curfew.

10 Cities Sites of Violence

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The fury of mob violence continued to scar the nation's cities today, with at least 10 communities hit by fresh violence over-posed to quell four days of violence that swelled into the costliest racial explosion in the nation's history.

Mayor Jerome P. Cavanaugh said, "I think it's over."

LL Gen. John Throckmorton, military chief of federal forces in the city, told his troops, "Sheathe your bayonets."

Romney withdrew the 9 p.m. curfew and lifted stringent regulations on gasoline sales with one exception, pumping gasoline into portable containers remained forbidden.

"Near Normal"

"It looks greatly improved," Romney said, "I went out to the main trouble area and took a good look. Things are approaching normal."

Romney, after four days of keeping pace with the developing violence, apparently was getting back to normal, also. He played golf before touring the city.

The governor told a news conference that he and Cavanaugh had sent a telegram to President Johnson asking him to declare the battered city a disaster area to make it eligible for federal funds for rebuilding.

Romney said, however, that there might be some legal question about whether the President could make such a declaration.

"The law has never been applied to a situation like Detroit," he told newsmen.

Citing "an apparent continuing improvement in the overall situation," Cavanaugh urged businesses, in the riot-blitzed city to resume normal operations.

Soldiers afoot and in tanks, armored cars and helicopters maintained guard on areas where violence has been fiercest.

Tranquility came to the disheveled city after another night of military siege on stubborn, last-ditch nests of snipers.

The last four hours before sunup passed with only two reports of snipers.

The death toll reached 36 during the night.

Chilton Board Plans School Expansion

Specific Answers Anticipated in 9 Months, Director Horst Claims

CHILTON — Arthur Horst, school board director, told electors at the annual district meeting that specific answers on future school expansion would be ready in about nine months.

Horst was explaining the background which lead to the board contracting with St. Mary parish to use four classrooms in the parish school for the seventh and eighth grades.

He said renting the classrooms for $3,000 was admittedly a temporary situation but preferable to purchasing relocatable classrooms at a cost of $40,000 to $50,000 not including foundation, utility connections and services. State approval also would have been required.

The situation became more urgent with the influx of parochial pupils, he said.

One of the four teachers in the rented classrooms will serve as an administrator to coordinate the program with the parochial school principal. Horst indicated possible compensation to the staff for the anticipated handicap encountered in being isolated from the main body of the school and staff.

Arrangements have been made this year to transport parochial school pupils living within the district, he explained. The district is not legally required to transport parochial pupils the first year from outside the district. In some cases, he said, pupils are transported less than two miles in the interest of safety.

X-Ray Plan Funds Released

Winnebago Okays $7,500 for Work on Tri-County Project

OSHKOSH — Winnebago County supervisors Tuesday approved without dissent a bill for $7,500 for planning work on the Tri-County expressway system.

The county had originally appropriated $6,500 in 1964 for its share of the estimated planning costs which eventually came to $7,000.

A resolution to pay the bill was tabled at the June meeting of the county board and sent to the special Bridge Committee for investigation. Last Friday, the committee, after checking the original 1964 resolution, agreed the work had been ordered and recommended payment.

State Rep. Robert Wertsch, who had made the tabling motion in June, brought the resolution back on the floor Tuesday.

The U.S. 147 bridge over Lake Butte des Morts was back on the floor of the board Tuesday with State Rep. Eugene Williams, Oshkosh, wanting to know if there was anything the county could still do to get the state to change its mind on the type of bridge construction.

Scandinavia, Waupaca Men in Two-Car Crash

SCANDINAVIA — A 23 year old Waupaca man suffered a laceration in his left arm, and extensive damage was caused in a two-car crash near the intersection of State 49 and County Trunk D, 10 miles northeast of here at 2 p.m. Tuesday.

John J. Thomas, 23, Northgate Court, Waupaca, driver of one of the cars, was treated at the Iola hospital and released. The car he was driving collided with one being driven by Ole E. Bergan, 64, Scandinavia.

According to Waupaca County traffic police, Bergan was traveling south on State 49 and Thomas north, when the two cars side-wiped on a curve. The 1961 model car Thomas was driving was demolished and an estimated $400 damage was caused to the car Bergan was driving.

Council Ponders Alternative

CHILTON — Mayor Harry Thompson Tuesday night asked the city council to consider financing the proposed comprehensive planning costs if federal aid is not available.

He asked aldermen to offer their opinions at the Aug. 1 meeting.

In other action the council authorized the Wisconsin Public Service Corp. to install two street lights on Fairview Lane, sidewalk and public property.

The 11,000 lumen mercury committee on negotiations for vapor lights will each cost 85 cents per month more than the present units.

Riots May Prompt New Laws

FOREST JUNCTION — A former Brillion High School vocational agriculture instructor predicted the U.S. will be enacting new laws to cope with the current riot problems and may live to regret them later.

William Hoefl, now farm director for WTMJ, Milwaukee, was the principal speaker at the annual twilight meeting of the Calumet County Holstein Breeders Association Tuesday night at the Reuben Ott farm.

Hoefl predicted that many things not originally intended would be read into these new laws in the future as they are interpreted by the courts. Shortly before arriving at the Ott farm Hoefl said he viewed movies of the riot conditions in Detroit and it prompted his thoughts for the evening.

"We are all going to help rebuild the billion dollar loss in Detroit," he said, via the federal assistance the city will later receive. Similar outbreaks can be expected in Chicago and Milwaukee. "But it is one thing to know when something is going to happen and another thing to stop it," he said.

Education Situation

"We can do something for the youngsters in the ghettos," he said, such as improving the quality of education. He admitted the education situation in Milwaukee's inner core was not up to par but "how to solve it is another problem."

Hoefl forecast terrific changes in handling such outbreaks. "Responsible leadership is not in favor of what happened in Detroit and backed authorities for sending in Army troops," he said.

He noted that the Russian newspapers were devoting prominent coverage to the Detroit situation. He said the situation "does more to set back racial progress than the Klux Klan ever could. We don't have the understanding," he said.

Breakdown of Home

Part of the problem is the breakdown of the home, but he noted the farm was still one place where the family was most often together for the evening meal.

"What kind of an image are those kids going to live with," he queried, after noting the Detroit films showed fearful four and five-year-old children walking down the streets in the strife torn areas.

"But," he warned, don't kid yourself it couldn't happen here.

"You can't castigate the entire Negro population because only 2 per cent of them are involved in the fracas," he said.

One of Two Youths who allegedly beat and robbed a rural Ripon man Monday night is shown being placed in a police car minutes after his capture in Waupaca Wednesday night by Robert Andraschko, in uniform, and off duty Waupaca patrolman William Carlson. The two youths fled on foot after the car they are alleged to have stolen crashed into a parking meter on Fulton Street following a high-speed chase by Waupaca County traffic patrolmen. One of the youths managed to elude police and is still being sought. The elderly Ripon man who was beaten and robbed is listed in critical condition in a Fond du Lac hospital. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Stockbridge Adopts $177,767 School Budget

STOCKBRIDGE — Elements of this year with an average pay of $9,200.

One resident asked whether it were considered wise to include kindergarten this year, in view of the school board's commitment regarding definite consolidation plans in six months and in view of the increased budget.

Move Necessary

Edgar Dunn, board chairman, who also served as chairman of the meeting, explained that the school curriculum would not end in mid-term and though electors had decided not to start kindergarten classes at last year's annual meeting for one year, it had been urged by the State Department of Public Instruction and the board felt it was necessary to include it.

Harry Dryer, Brillion, coordinator of the Brillion Cooperative Vocational School there spoke on the program in which 27 Stockbridge junior and senior boys participated.

Senators Agree; Wolf to Get 'Wild' Status

WASHINGTON — Senate Interior Committee members approved Wednesday a bill that would designate two rivers in Wisconsin as wild rivers.

The bill, which would designate a national wild and scenic rivers system, listed the St. Croix River in Wisconsin and Minnesota and the Wolf River in Wisconsin as wild rivers.

The scenic river system would include portions of the Wolf and the Namekagon in Wisconsin.

Under the bill, portions of the rivers would be preserved in free flowing condition. Other streams would be studied for possible inclusion in the system.

The program was explained to the group by Arthur Doll, recreation planner for the Wisconsin Conservation Department and Frank M. Hedgecock, chief park planner for the Northeastern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission, sponsor of the institute.

After Dec. 1, 1968, if a community does not have a detailed plan for a recreational project there will be no funds granted by LAWCON, Doll said. Until now many communities have submitted only brief outlines on what their project is going to be and they have received funds.

Matching Basis

LAWCON funds are collected from several sources and used on a 50 per cent matching basis for recreational facilities such as parks and shelter houses.

$40,000 Fire Destroys Barn Near Brillion

BRILLION — Fire of undetermined origin leveled an L-shaped barn and adjoining building during the night on the Charles and Earl Tesch farm 1 1/2 miles north of here.

Damage is expected to exceed $40,000. The loss is partially insured.

Charles Tesch was awakened by the bellowing of the cows about 1 a.m. today. He looked out his window and discovered the barn in flame.

Tesch had to drive into Brillion to summon firemen because the fire had burned wires connecting his home phone with an extension phone in the barn.

Last in the blaze were six or seven cattle, the entire new hay crop stored in the barn, a new corn chopper, tractor, combine, two plows, bulk milk tanks, and miscellaneous milking equipment.

Past Board President Unseated at Shiocton

$567,710 School Budget Given Approval By Electorate at Annual Meeting Monday

SHIOCTON — Milan Ratsch, a member of the board of education for 15 years, was unseated by a former teacher Monday by district electors at the annual school meeting.

Ratsch was board president during 1966-67. Robert Lee, a guidance director in the school system last term, won Ratsch's seat, while Norman Knorr was returned to office in a three-way contest for two seats.

The two candidates receiving the largest number of votes were seated. About 90 persons cast ballots and attended the annual meeting.

Budget Approved

Electorate approved the 1967-68 budget of $567,710 and a tax rate of $17 per $1,000 equalized valuation. The tax rate represents a decrease of $1 per $1,000 over last year.

When the $17 rate is applied against a district valuation of $13,325,000, an increase of $2.8 million over last year, it will result in a $236,532 levy. Last year's levy was $188,488.

The district operated under a

Group Cites Home's Ability to Reduce Delinquency, Delay State Building Need

Rawhide, Inc. (the non-profit facility) reduce the incidence of camp and boys home facility delinquency and possibly delay the need for additional state institutions of certain types.

The committee also concluded that the state offer all reasonable cooperation and encouragement in its development and expansion of non-profit facilities such as Rawhide.

Rawhide, under contract with the State Welfare department, currently provides foster care for up to eight disadvantaged boys. The facility is now being developed as a summer camping program what will be offered a 2-week camping experience for as many as 300 teenagers.

The committee concluded by saying that homes such as the one provided at Rawhide can offer, at a significantly lower cost, care and rehabilitation which are at least equal and perhaps superior to that provided in state institutions.

Cost Analysis

Analysis of the operating costs of the home indicate that such private homes can operate at a per capita cost of about $85 per month compared to $135 per month at the Wisconsin child center, the Fair and Bazaar which will be held Nov. 2 in the parish school.

Priced for a Sellout—Last Chance for Super Buys!

Mike Kirwan's Big Ditch

The miracle of miracles has happened. One of the most fantastic pork barrel boondoggles ever proposed to Congress has been killed.

It was known as "Mike Kirwan's Big Ditch." Mike Kirwan is a Congressman who was virtually unknown to the public outside his Youngstown, Ohio, district. But he is one of the most powerful men in Washington, and he had been pushing for this billion dollar project for some 30 years.

It was a 120-mile canal to link the Ohio River to Lake Erie. It would have been more than twice as long as the Panama Canal. It would have forced 1,500 families from their homes and permanently flooded nearly 90,000 acres of lush farmland. It would have cost more than seven times as much as the St. Lawrence Seaway. Leading Democrats and Republicans, as well as engineering experts, said it absolutely was not needed. Yet all the betting in the Halls of Congress was that Mike Kirwan would get his Big Ditch.

Eighty-year-old Rep. Kirwan is chairman of the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Public Works. He is almost a dictator when it comes to dispensing funds for Congressmen's pet projects. Not surprisingly there are few Congressmen willing to antagonize him.

The idea of the canal dates back to George Washington's time, when it might have been justified. The plan was revived early in this century by Youngstown industrialists seeking cheap barge transportation to the Great Lakes. In 1939, the Interstate Commerce Commission said it would do irreparable harm to railroads in the area. The Hoover Commission declared it was "not economically justified." But in 1961 Mike Kirwan wangled a $250,000 appropriation for the Corps of Engineers to review its feasibility.

It was not surprising that the Corps was enthusiastic about the project. A consulting firm paid $75,000 for economic studies found it would have little long-range beneficial effects. The Corps said it felt the consultant's opinion was not correct.

This year Mike Kirwan asked Congress for $500,000 in planning funds. There was scattered opposition in the House, and Sen. Proxmire of Wisconsin attacked the project in the Senate. But the bill authorizing the funds passed both the House and Senate.

First real public attention was paid to the raid on the U.S. Treasury in an article in the June Reader's Digest. And apparently an aroused public started to protest.

Last week the House Appropriations Committee balked at actually appropriating the money. Mike Kirwan's Big Ditch was stricken from the $4.6 billion public works bill. And Mike Kirwan himself sorrowfully wrote the obituary for the project in his subcommittee report.

Committee members cited the costs of the war in Vietnam for a general 5 per cent cut they made in water and power projects for this fiscal year. We have little good to say about Vietnam. But the war did help to kill Mike's Big Ditch.

The Committee on Police Support

At a time when, on a national level, police harassment seems to be at a peak and respect for law enforcement at low ebb, it is satisfying to see that "someone cares."

The "someone" of whom we speak is the newly-organized Appleton Committee on Police Support. The committee, which held its first meeting last week, appears to be small enough in membership (under 20) to be workable and yet large enough to include representatives of many of the city's leading civic, service and fraternal groups and government agencies. There is a good cross section of membership, including a retired policeman and a county board member who has had years of experience on the board's law enforcement committee.

There is an unlimited amount of good such a committee can do in the way of planting the seed of police support and respect in Appleton, then helping it grow through programs with youth and adults, individuals and groups. Such a committee, apparently the only one of its kind in the area, could also do much to improve the community's image.

The major pitfall we hope the committee can avoid — and one which could be hard to avoid because the situation lends itself to it — is that it not become a sort of police advisory group. If there is one thing police do not need, it's more private citizens telling them how to do their job.

We feel, however, by the tone of the conversation at their first meeting, that the Appleton Committee on Police Support has no intention of becoming an advisory or pressure body. It will be interesting to see what types of programs will be forthcoming from this potentially influential organization.

New Door County State Park

The state conservation commission has finally resolved its differences with Door County residents and officials and has established the boundaries of the new Whitefish Bay state park, which will be the fifth of the major state park developments in that relatively small district.

The negotiations with local officials, required under state law, were attended by considerable resistance, which ought not to surprise anybody familiar with the local property taxation problems of town and county officers. The state made some concessions, both with respect to the size of the recreational zone to be acquired, and with respect to the nature and timing of the facilities within the acreage.

We find ourselves sympathetic to both points of view on the issue. To some degree the erosion of the local property tax base through state land acquisition represents a forced subsidy by local residents, in this instance the residents of a comparatively small taxing district, for the benefit of the rest of the state and, indeed, many residents of other states. One day the legislature must find a solution for the problem in the form of a fair system of payments to local governments in lieu of tax resources lost.

On the other hand it is demonstrable that a distinctive state park is a powerful magnet for tourist visitors, and thus reinforces the local economy.

There can be no doubt about the unique attractions of this new park area, or about the zealous support of the people of Wisconsin for enlargement of the state park system. That the state has concentrated so much of its park planning in Door County, moreover, is the most eloquent proof possible of the singularly attractive scenic resources with which the peninsula was endowed.

The state's interest in this location was demonstrated nearly a quarter of a century ago, when the conservation department made a joint study of the area with the state planning board. State budget resources then were slender, and the movement was halted. Eight years ago the National Park Service emphasized the esthetic values of the area by recommending its public acquisition as a shoreline recreational district.

"By virtue of the outstanding scenic charm and valuable recreational possibilities of Cave Point and Whitefish Bay, this area should be singled out for addition to the state park system," the park service said then. The unusual natural features should be preserved for public use in perpetuity, the study concluded, before the opportunity was lost. Again in the Outdoor Recreation Act of 1961 the area was designated for high priority state acquisition.

The conservation commission has pledged to confine development to simple devices to protect the exceptional dunes and to maintain the integrity of other natural features. Both parties to the project have shown a trust and understanding that bodes well for sound management of one of the most desirable of the available recreational tracts in the whole state.

Don't Do It, Advises Crescent

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for July 27, 1867.
Let no man of this city ask the County Board to levy one cent of tax under the County Road Act.
A large majority of the towns do not wish Appleton to contribute toward the improvement of our roads; they have so voted, and their town chairmen have so decided. It would be unjust for the County Board to attempt to force $7,000 a year out of us to be expended outside the city under such circumstances.
Because a majority of the County Board live outside the city is no reason why this injustice should be done to those who live in Appleton.
And because, in some towns, sundry persons who violently opposed the ratification of the law at the polls, now change their tune and want the County tax part of it enforced, is no reason why any Appletonian should voluntarily acquiesce in such weather-cock arrangements.

Washington Insight:

Failure of Police Work Blamed For Ghetto Rioting and Crime

WASHINGTON — The word "Negroes" is the name of the game.

Detroit, Newark, Watts and dozens of lesser episodes show that the central element in the nation's race troubles is the vexed relationship between police authorities and ghetto dwellers. Something is seriously wrong, and major changes are clearly required.

More important is the testimony of Cleveland by the Federal Civil Rights Commission found that among Negroes the most frequent complaint is that of permissive law enforcement and that policemen fail to provide adequate protection and services in areas occupied by Negroes.

Evidence along the same lines is implied in recent surveys made in Watts, Washington and Harlem. A Cincinnati survey of Negro boys found 81 per cent agreeing that without police there would be crime everywhere.

Indifferent police performance in the ghetto finds its most graphic case in the testimony of a black community of underprivileged youth. The finding, according to assistant people peddling narcotics, robbery and drug dealing, had more than a dozen murders during one of the summer months.

The finding, however, is not meant to understand the situation. It is to point out the need for change. It is to point out the need for change. It is to point out the need for change.

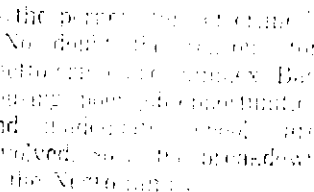

Kraft

But not, at least not primarily, in the direction of expanding and directing police effort as religiously prescribed by the liberal rhetoric. On the contrary, the major emphasis has to be on improving police protection in the Negro slums.

To grasp the problem, it is just necessary to understand the fact level of ghetto lawlessness. All studies indicate the unusual prevalence of all sorts of crime in the development Negro quarters of the big cities.

Victims, Perpetrators
The police are not only the victims of the situation, but they are also the perpetrators. They are the ones who are responsible for the situation. They are the ones who are responsible for the situation.

No doubt the police are the victims of the situation. They are the ones who are responsible for the situation. They are the ones who are responsible for the situation.

Legislature's Split On Beer Age Subject For Political Study

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
MADISON — Those students of politics and their instructors who so frequently solicit suggestions for theses and term papers that have some relevance to current political life ought to take note of the spectacular difference of attitude between state senators and assemblymen on the question of the legal age for the consumption of beer, and more particularly, the desirability of state-wide uniformity in the beer law.

Wyngaard

These men represent the same people in the home districts, they evolve in the same political system, represent mostly the same backgrounds, have mostly the same ambitions — primarily to retain their seats — and have heard the same evidence and have read the same mail during the whole of the long struggle about the beer age issue as it relates to highway safety.

But they have taken diametrically opposite viewpoints. The Senate has supported with easy majorities the idea of state-wide uniformity at 21 years, as asked by Gov. Knowles. The Assembly has adamantly resisted, insisting upon age 19. This is little or no gain in the viewpoint of the safety workers. The lower house managed to survive only upon the concurrence committee which has written a "compromise" report on the highway bill now cannot be amended. It can only be accepted or rejected. Surely this must challenge the research appetite of the professional scholar in politics.

ONLY CONJECTURE POSSIBLE
Lacking time and resources for detailed interviews and before the scholar-reporter is obliged to conjecture on the basis of what can be observed of the circumstances and what has been said in the public debate, while wishing that he could listen at the keyhole at some of the closed door caucuses.

There is the manifest difference of ages of the principal men involved in the fight, for example. State senators tend to be older. Perhaps like other older men of more humble attainment, they also tend to be more conservative.

Really Beautiful Girl Doesn't Enter Contests

A man who has something to say never becomes an orator, for an orator is someone who makes words do the work of ideas.

The only unforgivable sin is to be unforgiving.

Watching the U.S. representatives on television, it occurred to me that the one characteristic all of them have in common is an intense humorlessness — and that the same single-minded dullness that propels them into statesmanship also makes it impossible for them to see the absurdity of proclaiming that their country is always right.

When a parent confesses he or she "can't handle" a child of 16, it is a safe conclusion that the child was mishandled at the age of six.

It is hard to quarrel with the observation made a century ago by J. C. Collins that: "Half our mistakes in life arise from feeling where we ought to think, and thinking where we ought to feel."

The moralist fails to understand what wise women have long known — that the best antidote for lust is not indignation, but laughter.

When we are young, we would like to make a burning satire about mankind, as we get older, we realize such a book would have to be largely autobiographical in nature, for we ourselves have done as little to rectify the world's folly as those we scorned in our youth.

A fanatic is someone who believes that man's best friend is his dogma.

Marital conversations are usually ungratifying to the wife, simply because a woman can listen so much faster than a man can talk.

One of our unconscious superstitions is that hard luck is catching — which is why we uneasily avoid those who seem to be losers.

If you cannot endure to be thought in the wrong, you will begin to do terrible things to make the wrong appear right.

Children Hurt By War to be Treated in U. S.

Specialized Medical Attention for Some Available Only Here

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. government has offered free air transportation to this country for war-injured South Vietnamese children needing specialized medical treatment available in the United States.

Two members of the Committee of Responsibility, an organization of American physicians, told The Associated Press that William Bundy, assistant secretary of state for the Far East, made the offer in a letter to the group earlier this month.

"We approached him earlier this year on the matter," said Dr. Herbert Needleman, a Philadelphia physician. "In early July we got a letter that said the State Department was prepared to offer air evacuation for the children if the South Vietnamese government approves."

Expect Approval
Needleman and Dr. Frank Exman of Boston, left New York for Saigon Wednesday afternoon to get that approval.

"We're going with an open mind about the problem," Needleman said. "We expect that the children will be released to us. You might say we're cautiously optimistic."

The program would start with four children already chosen for evacuation. They range in age from 2 to 14 and have injuries of various kinds, including burns, fractures and amputations.

Oppose Waupaca's Proposal

Claim Changes Would Reduce Hunters, Also Cut License Revenue

MADISON — Changes in the deer hunting schedule as proposed by Assemblyman G. K. Anderson of Waupaca County would substantially reduce the number of hunters and correspondingly cut the license revenues of the state conservation department, the department has advised the legislature.

The comment came in a fiscal note prepared by the department in accordance with the rules that require such analysis of all measures affecting state finances.

Anderson has asked that the opening date for deer hunting be the first Friday after Thanksgiving, and the department calculated that the elimination of the Thanksgiving holiday from the hunting period and the later date for the opening of the hunt would reduce license sales by 10 per cent, or $200,000 annually.

Anderson also asked for a $3 party permit system for six days in mid-December, replacing the present $5 permit system for extra shooting during the regular season.

Special License
That would have the likely effect of reducing the sales of the special party licenses by 50 per cent, and taking into account the present charge of $5 for such permits, would result in a net revenue loss of about $200,000 each year, officials said.

The department acknowledged that there would be a slight revenue gain in Anderson's proposal for a special land-owner's shooting permit system in quota areas, with licenses sold at $2 each, of which $1 would go to the conservation department. It was estimated that 60,000 of such permits might be sold yearly, for an additional revenue of about $60,000 per season.

Here's How to Record Day to Day Expenses

BY SYLVIA PORTER

The past three columns have started you on creating a simple, workable budget which will be a tool to help you achieve your family's goals.

You have, on a first sheet of paper, listed all the income you will receive for a full year and divided the total into 12 monthly periods. You have, on a second sheet, listed all your fixed, unavoidable expenses (including savings and personal allowances) over a year's period and divided this total into 12 monthly periods. You have subtracted your monthly inflexible expense total from your monthly income total. You now know what is left each month to cover your day-to-day expenses and to finance your purchases of luxuries.

Porter

Take a third sheet and entitle it "Day-to-Day Expenses." These are the expenses which will vary considerably but they are a substantial and crucially important part of your budget. They also are the expenses over which you have the most control and thus this is the category which you can juggle to help achieve a balance between your income and outgo.

Detailed Record

Because you probably won't even be able to remember many of the little expenses when you begin your list, the thing to do is to keep a detailed record of all items for a couple of weeks. From this you'll get an accurate idea of how much you're spending and for what. After you've obtained this guide you can (and definitely should) stop keeping records in such strutting detail.

Here are the main categories of day-to-day expenses:

Food — including not only the amount of your regular grocery bills, but also the amount you spend in eating out in restaurants, candy and snacks from vending machines, soft drinks, beer, wine and liquor, tips for any of these items, cigarettes, as the strike of Local No. 59, periodic and supplies, personal and household items such as soap, toothpaste and laundry soap which you buy at the supermarket.

Household expenses — including company's Nekoosa and Port and home repairs, maintenance costs not counted in your fixed expenses at Port Edwards have expenses cleaning supplies, beer, idled by the strike. The household company offer on July 7 was.

Furniture and equipment — accepted by a majority of employees, including the amounts of cash employees in the other price and down payments you pay for operating unions, and by the large and small appliances union representing other employees, furniture, silverware, cutlery.

1967 Legislature . . . III

Biggest Showdown Comes On Governor's Highway Bill

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin lawmakers found it hardest to put a harness on the horseless carriage.

The 1967 Legislature, lagging a month behind schedule, returned today to close out its initial session with a showdown over traffic safety.

The compromise package approved by the Senate-Assembly committee to end the impasse embraces each of Gov. Warren P. Knowles' major proposals—but none as warmly as he wanted.

Last of a Series

Knowles' most controversial measure for a statewide minimum age of 21 for drinking beer was pared to 19, with communities keeping the local option to hike it higher.

The package does include intoxication tests for drunken driving suspects, annual safety checks for automobiles, eyesight examinations for all motorists, and more than 50 pages of other proposals.

Senate and Assembly leaders predicted approval. The package is subject to a single, sudden-death vote in each house. Knowles made traffic safety his most prominent personal goal after a record total of 1,127 and buses are optional, and lives were lost on Wisconsin streets and highways last year.

The death count so far this year is running even with the record pace of 1966, with a law-maker's daughter listed among the victims.

The starting timetable for the traffic safety package is stretched out over two years, with some sections, such as the eyesight tests, not taking effect until 1969.

Higher traffic fines and a 50-man boost in the State Patrol are authorized immediately. The one-year jump in the drinking limit goes into effect next Jan. 1, to studying and writing standards.

Automobile insurance became the target of another dispute may not begin until 1969. The deadline is one year after the makers when they return in October's standards are approved.

The Senate passed by voice a measure to outlaw cancellation of policies solely because of race, religion, age or residence, to require advance notice before lifting insurance coverage, and to require reasons in writing if requested by motorists.

However, the insurance bill got trapped by the Assembly's stack to the unseen fumes of debate over traffic safety and has been ticketed for attention in the fall session.

Children Treated at Welfare Center Improve, Parents Feel

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — The majority of parents of disturbed youngsters released from the Wisconsin State Department of Public Welfare's child treatment center believe their children to be better behaved and more stable following a year's treatment, according to a staff report.

And center tests indicate that youngsters admitted to the center for severe behavioral disturbances slow their progress to academic retardation to a halt and start to learn at their normal rate, the report states.

In the center's annual report to the state Board of Public Welfare, Dr. Martin B. Fliegel, superintendent of the center, points to these and other gains as primary accomplishments of the institution during the past year.

The results are based on studies of 40 children and their families who have been released from center treatment during the past year.

The report of the studies appears to be definitely accomplishment oriented, in the face of what in the past have been severe legislative complaints over the high cost of the low capacity, high staff ratio center operated for intensive care and study of severely disturbed youngsters.

Similar complaints about another welfare department institution led to the closing this year of the department's diagnostic center. The program of that facility will be continued at two state hospitals where costs are expected by state analysts and the Legislature to be lower because of reduced duplication of staff and facilities.

The child treatment center, located on the shores of Lake Mendota in Madison, has been criticized during the budget process in the legislature, for many of the same problems as the diagnostic center, which also treated and studied disturbed children.

Dr. Fliegel's report admits that parental evaluation of a child's change is subjective, but points out that the attitudes of the parents "express considerable satisfaction with the program" of the treatment center.

"The majority of parents feel their child is improved and their rating of specific items of disturbed behavior indicate a considerable reduction in the amount and type of behavior which have in the past caused the child to be excluded from his community and family."

Dr. Fliegel describes one youngster who, on admission, was described as follows: "Hyperactive; talked in a rambling disconnected manner; would stare into space; giggle uncontrollably; spent his spare time rocking back and forth in a stationary chair; he was easily frustrated and could fly into rages; he played with matches and knives, frequently harming himself; he wandered off without proper clothing during winter and could not function in school despite excellent intelligence."

The change in the nine year old, wrote his mother, "seems like a miracle. He had done well in school and has been productive. Only one serious temper tantrum and father handled that."

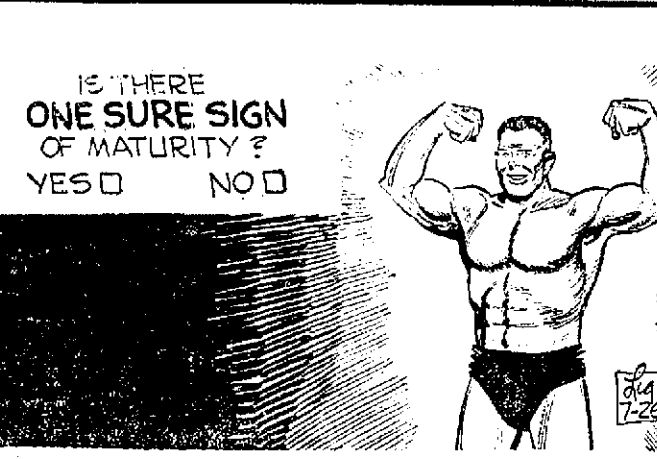

Fliegel noted that of the 40 children released by the center, 26 were academically retarded by more than one year on admission.

The average retardation of the 26 children was 2.9 years, and normal regression, based on their previous rate, would have reached 3.6 years during an average stay at the center.

But the retardation was stopped and the rate of learning about improved so that the children are now moving ahead at a normal rate — although they remain about 2.8 years on the person can read or control himself in a good mental health."

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

Yes, and this is the willingness to postpone immediate satisfactions for future goods. The very young child wants what he wants right now. If he eats all his candy now, he will have none later on, and he may even be sick, but all this will not matter. Likewise immature adults will spend all their money the first few days and be in want for the rest of the week. As we grow up, we become increasingly concerned about the future.

If you would like to test your own emotional maturity, read the booklet, "How to Be an Emotional Grownup." It's yours for 20 cents and a stamped return envelope sent to this column, care of The Post-Crescent.

Can mental illness be cured through reading? Yes — No —

No, authorities do not believe that reading alone can cure mental illness. The mentally ill cannot improve by reading alone. Study finds that most people differ "most from those in believing that a person can read or control himself in a good mental health." Reading can help you

Twin Trailer Bill

See Possible Increase In Legal Truck Length

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — The Wisconsin Motor Carriers Association manager says he is cautiously optimistic about the legislative prospects for the truckers' twin trailer bill now before the state legislature which would authorize truck combinations of 65 feet in total length instead of the present restriction of 55 feet on the four-lane divided highways of the state.

John P. Varda of the association said there is an improving understanding of the bill by the public, and an increasing interest in the issue among leaders of Wisconsin, commerce and industry concerned about transportation efficiency.

Some of the larger commercial and industrial concerns operating their own trucking fleets are joining in the drive to persuade the legislature to modify the length limitations law, he said.

A father should try to become a pal to his sons!

Good — Bad —

Bad. When Father becomes just another child in the family to be taken care of by Mother, his children miss out on the strong leadership they should be getting from him. This is the problem with Dad trying to be little more than a pal to his sons. They need the kind of father they can respect and model themselves after. Otherwise they grow up passive and weak, resisting their over-protective mothers by rebelling or running away. Girls, too, need a father as well as a mother in order to find themselves as women-in-the-making.

Contributing to the favorable outlook is the fact that additional states in other parts of the country, including Ohio and Maryland most recently, have modified their truck length restrictions. He also noted that Lowell Bridwell, federal highway administrator, has called for a national policy providing for uniform regulations in the interest of transportation efficiency in the nation.

Varda said he believes Sen. Reuben LaFave, chairman of the Senate highways committee, which is considering the "double bottom" authorization bill, probably will act on suggestions for

Joseph Vander Velden, Dr. Van Lieshout Win Little Chute Posts

LITTLE CHUTE — Dr. Francis X. Van Lieshout, 537 S. Jackson St., outpolled two other candidates Monday to win reelection to the board of education for a one-year term.

Van Lieshout polled 151 votes as compared to 41 votes for Roger Smith, Hoover Street, and 15 for George Vanderloop Sr., 127 E. Main St.

Joseph Vander Velden, 621 N. Madison St., defeated Roger Frelch, 1219 1/2 Hoover St., in a landslide, 192 to 12, for a three-year term. Neither candidate had served on the board before.

Other spokesmen for the industry note that the bill has been refined to define more precisely the access routes that the larger truck routes could use to reach the existing four-laned highways between Madison and Chicago. Madison to Milwaukee, and Green Bay to Milwaukee and Chicago.

Car Strikes Truck, Appleton Youth Hurt

Charles H. Stevens, 17, 2018 1/2 N. Superior St., suffered chest, head injuries and shock as a result of an accident about 2 p.m. Tuesday at U.S. 10 and Outagamie County Trunk A. Stevens was taken home after the accident, but his mother

"As more industries in their own right, such as the Kroger company and the Pure Milk Products Association, are looking at this type of vehicle and place orders for delivery of these combinations, there will be greater pressure for this legislation."

But Varda says he is reconlater notified police that he was taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital.

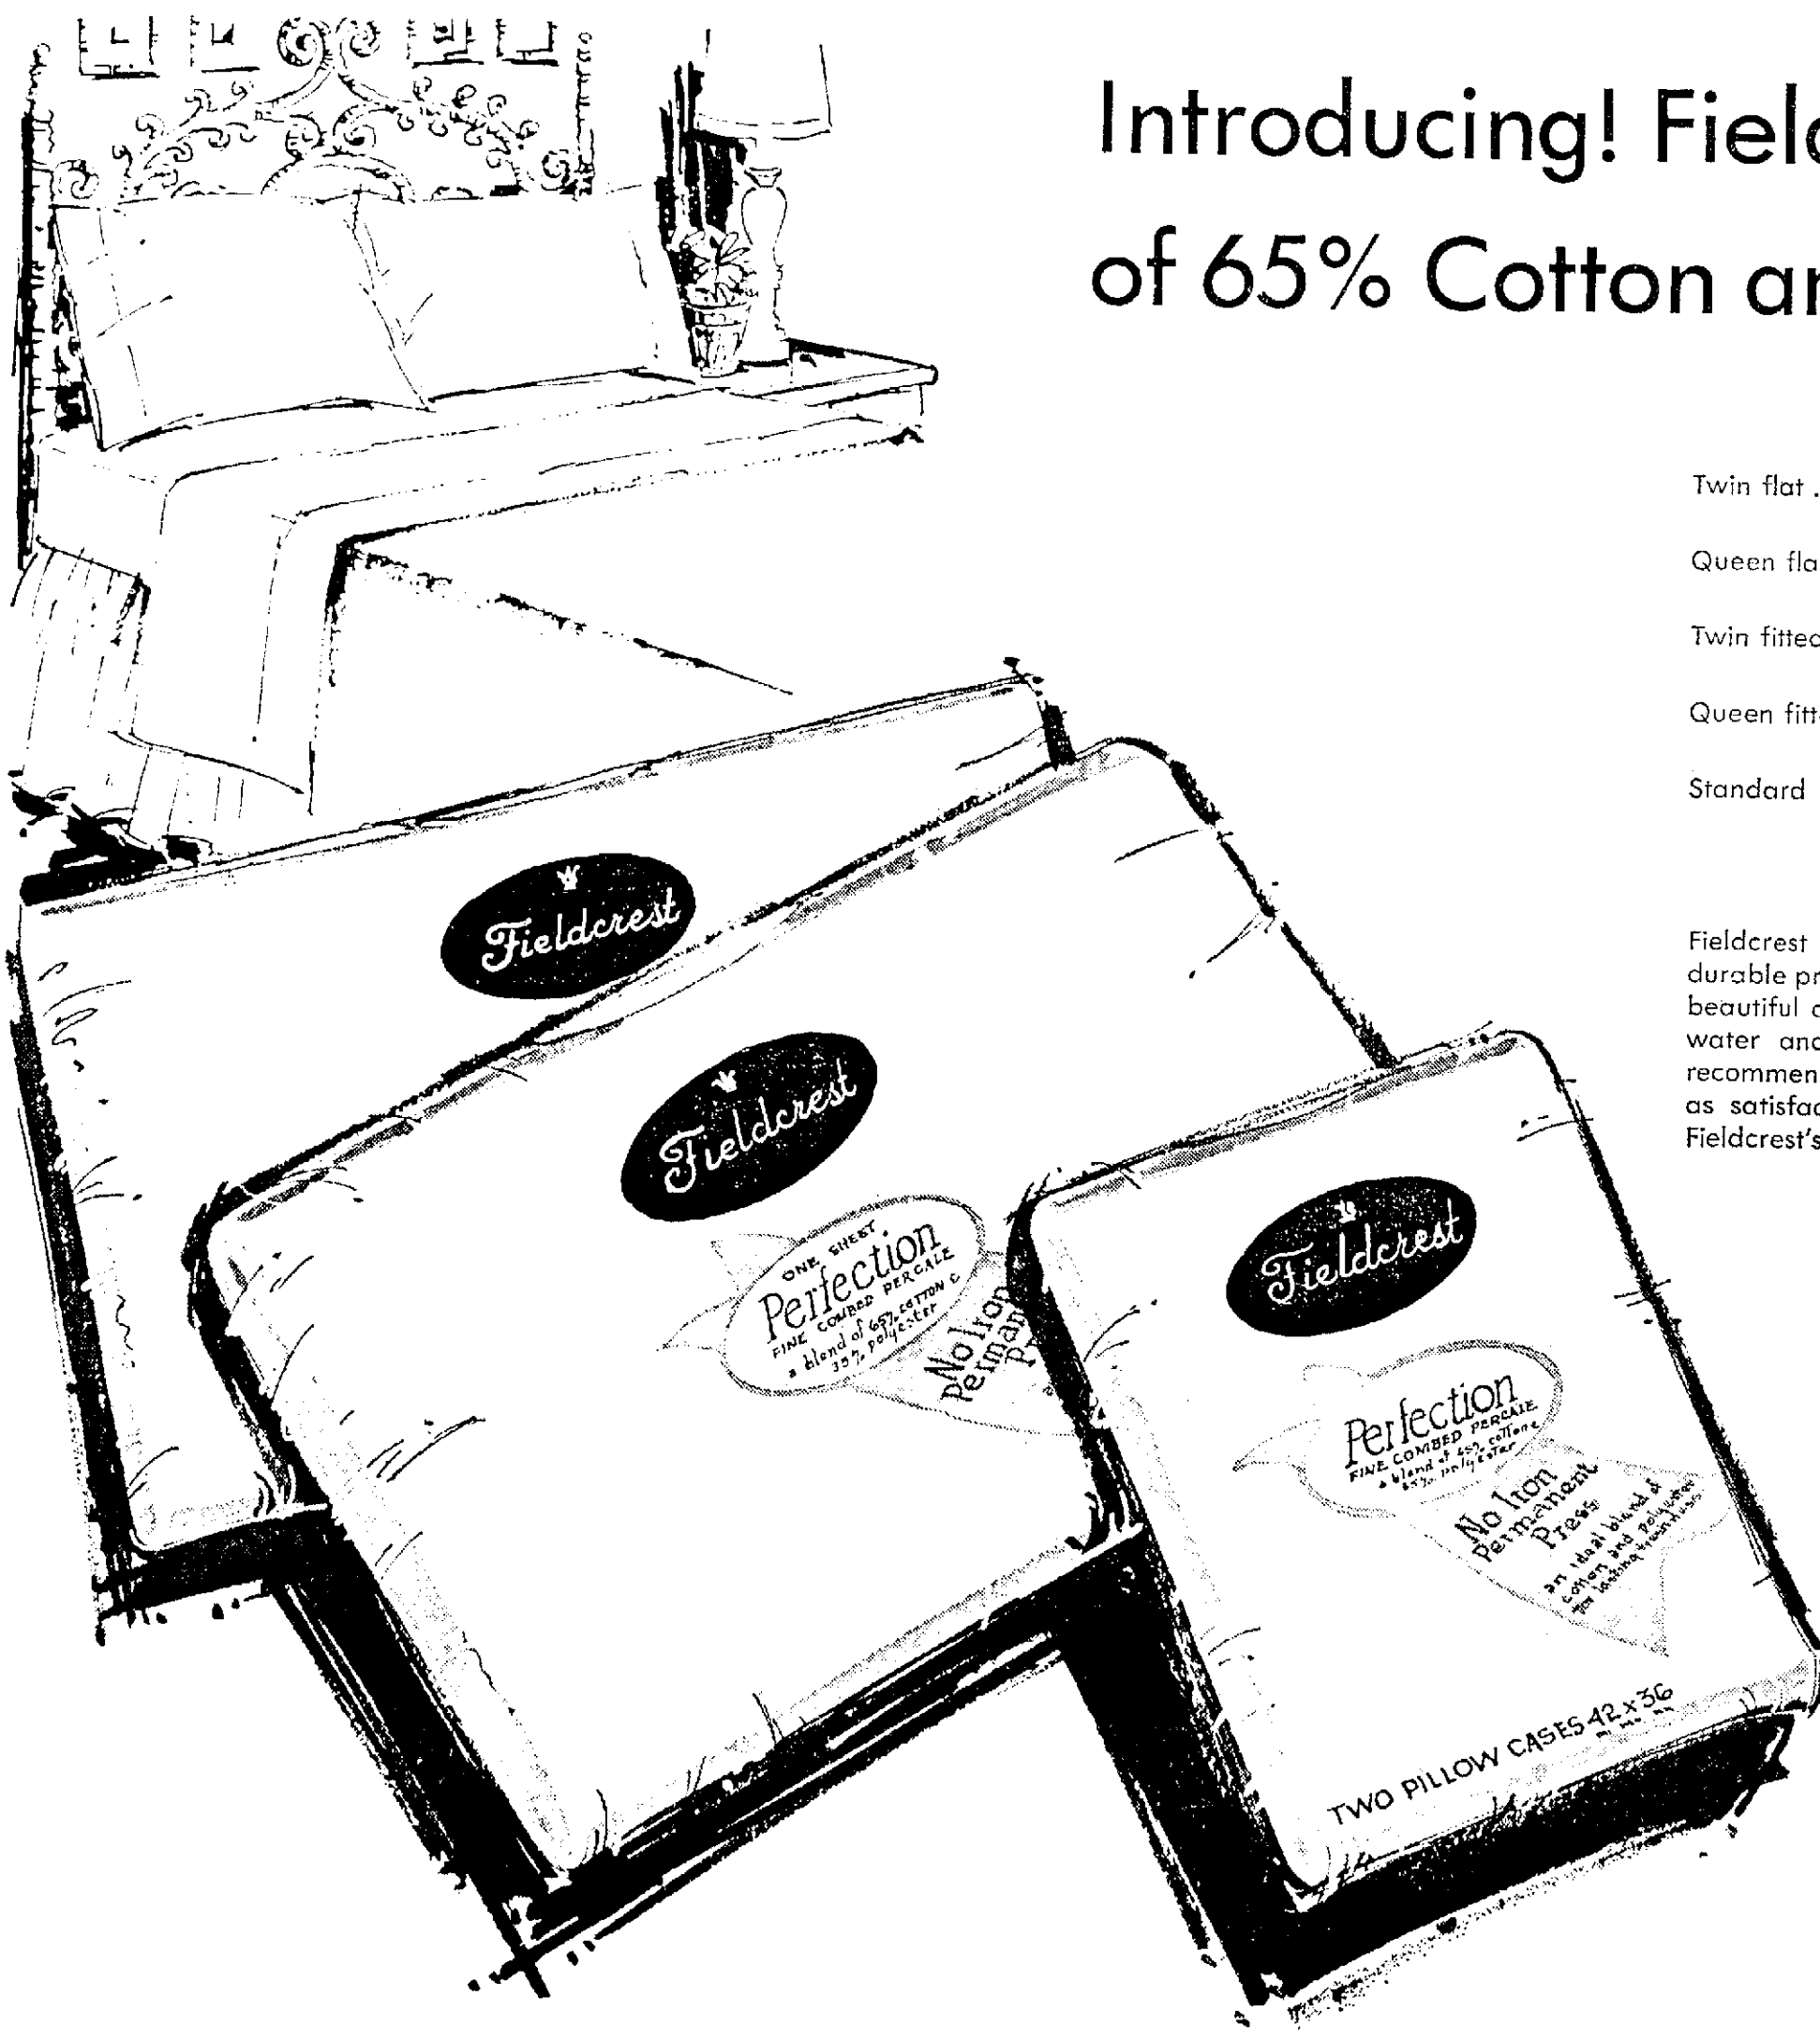

Police said that Stevens was eastbound on 10 when the car he was driving ran into the rear of a van truck operated by Carl J. Mattson, 27, 1321 N. Durkee St. The truck had slowed down for another vehicle.
